Bids Called On Hospital Fixup Plans

Two resolutions unanimously passed by Marin County supervisors yesterday provided for bids on temporary strengthening of county hospital buildings, and for clearing the way toward a new hospital.

The first action was specific, comprising approval of plans and specifications laid before the board by engineer Harold M. Engle and setting the date for bid call at Dec. 18, with bid opening due Jan. 18.

Estimating the cost at around $70,000, Engle said the proposed work should make the structures "reasonably safe for hospital occupancy for a two-year period," which is what the State Bureau of Hospitals has demanded.

The other resolution, somewhat more general, authorized Chairman William D. Fusselman to write to the state bureau explaining intent of the board to move ahead on plans for something new.

HE'S CONVINCED

Fusselman said his conversations with state officials convinced him that evidence of good faith would suffice to tide things over and prevent the state's ordering the hospital closed Dec. 31.

He felt he could explain that the board will visit the Humboldt County hospital at Eureka Dec. 22 (this time being after the Dec. 18 deadline for board resolution outlining proposed financing methods). He said the board should make general decision by Jan. 1.

"By March 1 we'll tell exactly what we're going to do," said Fusselman.

Asst. Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said he had just phoned to state engineer Robert J. Barnecut and "he indicated he would certify to the existing operation if the county went ahead with plans to strengthen, subject to approval of the plans, which I take to be a matter of course."

ALLOWS EXTENSION

Barnecut will allow extension of the license after Dec. 31, said Bruce, on a basis of possible revocation if further action toward permanent cure is not taken by March 1.

Engle said that in a complete survey, including drilling holes to learn more complete structural facts than hitherto, "many structural deficiencies" not previously realized had been discovered.

"Hoops like a barrel" summed up the main feature of Engle's description of remedial measures. He said that by en-

STANLEY J. FONTEZ
First out for county job

Fontez To Run For Treasurer, Tax Position

Stanley John Fontez, 43, senior accountant in the Marin County auditor's office, officially announced today he is running for the post of county tax collector-treasurer next June.

He is the first announced candidate for county office in next year's election.

Fontez, who has been in county service for five and one-half years, will seek the post to be vacated by M. F. Donohue, who has announced he will retire at the close of his present term.

Fontez lives at 501 Heather Way, Terra Linda, with his wife Florence, and their three children, Lawrence, 16; Teresa, 15, and Kathleen, 8.

"I feel qualified for the job and am confident I can handle the work," said Fontez. His announcement came as no surprise. He had been suggested for the post ever since Donohue indicated he would retire.

Born in San Francisco, Fontez moved to Marin in 1924 as a child of 6 and has lived here ever since. He attended Fairfax Elementary School, Tamalpais High School, and was graduated from San Francisco State College with a major in commerce. Just before Pearl Harbor, he was drafted into the Army and served for more than four years, including duty in the South Pacific and Far East. He came out as first lieutenant.

His experience includes work with Marin Municipal Water District as meter reader and repairman and as correctional officer and record clerk at San Quentin Prison. When he entered college in 1947, he continued his San Quentin job on the graveyard shift to help pay for his education.

After college, he was teach-

Marin County Grand Jurors Are Dismissed

The Marin County Grand Jury headed by foreman William L. Hughes was discharged this morning after 17 busy months of service.

Judge Thomas F. Keating, presiding judge of Marin Superior Court, formally discharged the jurors in ceremonies in the courthouse annex. The judge commended them for efficient service.

A new grand jury will be selected after each of the three superior court judges has submitted 10 nominees. From the panel of 30 names, a jury of 19 will be picked.

IT WASN'T QUITE THAT COLD

San Rafael shoppers were startled last night by this snow man in front of the Marin County Courthouse. But it didn't really snow here, although the snow for the snowman was found right in San Rafael. Wayne Tobin, son of the Courthouse Creamery owner across Fourth Street from the courthouse, and his friend James De La Montanya were cleaning out the creamery refrigerator and decided the excess ice should not go to waste. Far from being an abominable snowman, it added to the Christmas atmosphere in town. (Independent-Journal photo)

Bookseller Testifies At Miller Book Trial

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

The forgotten man of the "Tropic of Cancer" obscenity trial was remembered today.

Frank B. Pershina, the man who started the whole controversy in Marin when on Oct. 25 he sold a copy of the Henry Miller novel to Antoan Adam, investigator for the district attorney's office, took the stand this morning.

He testified, under direct examination by defense attorney Lawrence Goldberg and cross-examination by Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety that he had read only the introduction to the book and that he had "definitely not" pointed out dirty passages to Adam.

Adam, the first witness for the prosecution last week, said Pershina had opened the book to specific passages, smiled and said: "It is filthy."

Pershina, 32-year-old owner of the Golden Hind Book Store in San Anselmo, told the court Adam had asked for a "sexy book for a sick friend."

"I assumed he meant a contemporary novel with exciting passages about love," Pershina said.

Pershina said that he suggested to Adam, if he intended to read the book himself, that he read the introduction by Karl Shapiro first, "to give him a better understanding of the book and the author."

Garety asked if Pershina, as a literary man having read Shapiro's glowing introduction, had no interest in reading "Tropic."

"Not particularly," Pershina said. "I don't read much fiction. I read mostly in the fields of psychology, metaphysics and geology."

In order to prove the case against Pershina, the prosecution must, according to a new state law, prove that he knowingly sold obscene matter.

A batch of photographs of Pershina's book store was introduced as evidence over objections by Garety that the pictures were admittedly taken after Oct. 25 and did not show the store as it was that day.

Defense attorneys Goldberg and Charles W. Pierce told Judge Leonard A. Thomas that they wished only to show the general character of the store, the judge having denied a motion that the jury visit the store.

The defense was expected to call witnesses through tomorrow. Garety said he would call "at least one" rebuttal witness.

Skewes-Cox Dies At 75 At Ross Home

Vernon Skewes-Cox, 75, British-born longtime Ross civic leader, died early today at his home after long illness from cancer.

Skewes-Cox had resided on Laurel Avenue in Ross since 1930. He came to the United States in 1919, becoming associated with Balfour, Guthrie and Co., Ltd., a British firm in the coffee export-import business, on his arrival here. He resided in San Francisco until moving to Ross.

He was born in Richmond, Surrey, England, son of the late Sir Thomas and Lady Skewes-Cox, and was graduated from Charterhouse School and Oxford University. In 1912 he went to Chile, where he was married in 1915 to the former Edith Page Smith, who survives.

Skewes-Cox was first captain of the Marin County Cricket Club. He was a former president of the Lagunitas Country Club and a member of the Pacific Union Club of San Francisco. He served on the Rhodes Scholarship selection committee for California.

Besides his wife, he leaves three sons, Bennet Skewes-Cox of Ross, who is prominent in Marin Democratic party circles, and Robin and Martin Skewes-Cox of San Francisco; a daughter, Mrs. Adrian H. Malone of San Anselmo, and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. John's Episcopal Church, Ross. Inurnment will be private. The family prefers that tributes be memorial gifts to the British Benevolent Society.

Troops Are Flown To Katanga, Big Offensive Seen

COMBINED AP AND UPI

ELISABETHVILLE — U.S. Air Force Globemaster transports today flew troops and supplies to Katanga, indicating a major U.N. offensive may be imminent. Katanga appealed to Undersecretary Ralph Bunche to investigate "cruel and inhuman actions of the U.N. force.

The transports brought in 700 Ethiapian troops, 22½ tons of ammunition and supplies, and 14 jeeps. Another 105 Ethiopians arrived from Kindu, and informed soures said 250 Swedish troops were brought in last night to double the size of the Swedish contingent.

The Katanga government asked that Bunche, the American U.N. undersecretary, come to Elisabethville from Leopoldville, where he is discuscsing the Katanga situation with U.N. and Congolese officials.

INHUMAN ACTIONS

It said Bunche could "bring to the world proof of the cruel, inhuman actions of the U.N. armed forces on free Katanga soil. It offered him an armed escort and guaranteed "free movement."

A government communique said seven civilians have been killed and 25 wounded in the U.N. mortar bombardment of the city last night and today. It said more than 200 shells were fired and 80 per cent of them hit "non-military objectives."

The mortar fire came from the direction of the Swedish U.N. camp and was directed against central Elisabethville.

JETS BOMB

Four Swedish U.N. jets blasted the Lido Hotel with bombs and rockets in an apparent attempt to flush out Katanga troops occupying the building.

Katanga's mission in Brussels said U.N. forces launched a general attack in Elisabethville and that President Moise Tshombe's government had wired the mission: "It is feared that the Katangan forces will not be able to resist."

Fresh Katanga troops moved in from the north and U.S. Globemasters from Leopoldville brought in 216 Swedish soldiers newly arrived from Europe.

Katanga Gen. Norbert Moke said he planned to take the offensive soon against the U.N. forces, though he acknowledged the superiority of the U.N. weapons and jet air force. The number of Katanga reinforcements was not stated.

New violence threatened in Kivu Province, north of Katanga. Two thousand troops from the Congo's Oriental Province were reported moving in to attempt to take over Kivu. Provincial government sources said the troops belong to leftist Antoine Gizenga, nominal vice premier of the central Congolese government whose Oriental regime is virtually secessionist.

Gizenga, political heir of Patrice Lumumba and favorite of the Communist bloc, made a brief truce with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula but left Leopoldville weeks ago. He was implicated in the slaying of 13 Italian U.N. airmen last month at Kindu, in Kivu, and the United States warned in the U.N. Security Council that he could pose a more serious threat to the Congo than Katanga President Moise Tshombe.

Both United Nation and Katangan sources reported local

U.S., Britain Split On Congo Cease-Fire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today opposed Britain's request for a Congo cease-fire until the United Nations is able to stabilize the situation in embattled Katanga Province.

Instead of calling for a halt to the fighting, the United States said the United Nations should quickly carry out its minimum military objectives in Katanga.

Officials described these as an ability by the United Nations to defend itself and to maintain freedom of movement to preserve order in Katanga.

At the same time, they said, the United Nations should try to bring about political negotiations between the Katanga government and central Congo authorities with the aim of unifying the country.

Acting Secretary of State George W. Ball said that until these objectives are met, the United States opposes Britain's demand that acting U.N. Secretary General Thant arrange a halt to the fighting.

"We want a cease-fire as soon as feasible," Ball said.

Ball described the varying U.S.-British stands as "honest differences of opinion."

U.S. sources said that if the United Nation's present military buildup in Katanga is not sufficient, this country would consider providing further supply transport aid. But it has no plans to send American forces or American arms—"as such"—to the Congo.

Labor Agrees On Internal Wars Plan

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) — Leaders of organized labor announced jubilantly early today their complete agreement on a plan for settling labor's internal wars.

It was obvious that George Meany, 67-year-old AFL-CIO president, considered the pact a crowning achievement of his embattled union career.

The pact won unanimous approval of the AFL-CIO Executive Council in a debate during a marathon eight-hour session. Quick approval by the AFL-CIO convention was assured.

Meany, whose re-election as the federation president was a foregone conclusion, is expected to wait a while to see that the peace plan he worked out is functioning smoothly, then probably lay down the mantle of top leader of the merged labor movement to some designated successor.

The plan in a nutshell:

1. Disputes over raiding rival union memberships, over unethical organizing tactics and work jurisdiction will first be mediated.

2. If there is no settlement the case is to go to an umpire for an award.

3. The loser of the award can appeal to a three-man committee of Executive Council members. They are required to throw out any obviously erroneous award. If they consider an appeal valid, they will refer the matter to the full 29-man council.

FRANCIS P. KENNEDY

Youth Who Leaped Off Bridge Dies

Francis Patrick Kennedy, 20-year-old Oakland shipping clerk, died early today of injuries suffered 10 days ago when he plunged 200 feet from the Golden Gate Bridge to a Marin beach beneath its north end.

Kennedy was the second person ever known to survive a leap from the bridge, but his injuries proved too severe for recovery. He died at 3:32 a.m. today in Marin General Hospital.

He suffered fractures of of arm, pelvis and ribs, dislocated shoulder, and numerous internal injuries in the 200-foot fall. He leaped as two California Highway Patrol officers ran to try to stop him. His uncle, Thomas R. Gardiner of Piedmont, said later it was all a mistake—that Kennedy told him he had run to escape the officers and had leaped off the bridge thinking it was only 20 feet above ground.

Kennedy's death left Mrs. Cornelia Blencke of San Rafael as the only person alive after leaping from the Golden Gate span. She jumped 235 feet into the water on Sept. 3, 1941, but eventually recovered from extensive injuries.

Kennedy is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ann Kennedy; a brother, William Kennedy, and three sisters, Margaret and Theresa Kennedy and Mrs. Carmel Hout, all of Oakland.

Funeral arrangements are being made by Chapel of the Oaks Mortuary in Oakland.

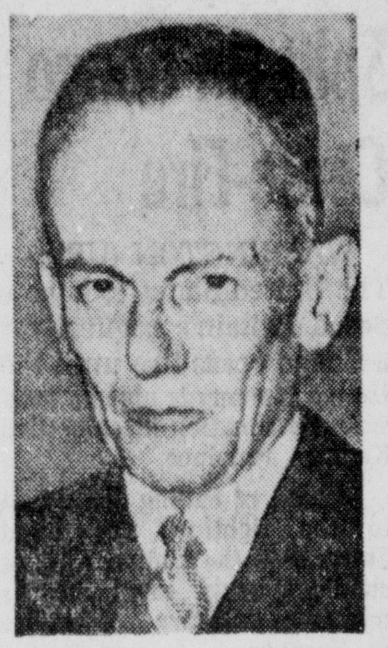
Kennedys Set For Weekend Journey To South America

LUIS MUNOZ-MARIN
Puerto Rico governor

6,370 Miles To Be Covered By President

ROMULO BETANCOURT
President of Venezuela



ALBERTO L. CAMARGO
Leader in Colombia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy will cover 6,370 miles by plane, helicopter and automobile in his weekend trip to Venezuela and Colombia.

He also plans to work in a half dozen speeches in the fast, tightly timed journey.

The two major addresses are to be delivered at an agrarian reform site outside Caracas, the Venezuelan capital, on Saturday afternoon, and at the San Carlos Palace in Bogota Sunday night.

Kennedy has allotted time for private talks with his hosts, President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela and President Alberto Lleras Camargo of Colombia.

In both South American nations, Kennedy will join in ceremonies dedicating projects of the Alliance for Progress—the chief executive's 10-year program for U.S. cooperation with Latin America in economic and social development.

Traveling with Kennedy will be a party of 10, including Mrs. Kennedy and Chester Bowles, the president's special adviser on African, Asian and Latin American affairs.

There will be little leisure for the president from the time he leaves the White House about noon Friday until he heads back Sunday night.

The presidential party first makes an overnight stop at San Juan, Puerto Rico, where the Kennedys will be guests of Gov. Luis Munoz-Marin.

Saturday morning they'll arrive in Caracas—where former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's car was stoned in anti-American demonstrations two and one-half years ago—to be paraded through the city in a 25-mile motorcade.

After speeches, ceremonies and conferences, Kennedy flies to Bogota Sunday morning. There the Kennedys will motor nine miles to Techo for dedication of housing and school projects.

A banquet Sunday night will wind up with Kennedy's address. After the banquet the Kennedys board the presidential jet and speed home. Mrs. Kennedy will leave the plane during a refueling stop at West Palm Beach, Fla., and is expected to remain in Palm Beach through the Christmas holidays.

U.N. Assembly Trying To End China Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The General Assembly drove today to wind up its marathon debate on whether to seat Red China with the United States still confident it has the votes to bar Peiping.

With only 12 more speakers to be heard, the 103-nation assembly plunged into afternoon and night sessions to speed the ballot on whether the Nationalists or the Communists should have China's U.N. seat.

The United States and the Soviet Union, staking their prestige on the outcome of the long-standing cold war issue, both planned to speak again at the close of debate, expected late tonight.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson has voiced confidence Red China will be barred from the world body for at least another year.

Stevenson based his optimism on a survey of delegations which he said indicated a majority believed the China question is one of substance requiring a two-thirds vote majority for action.

The U.S. delegation believes the Reds can't obtain a two-thirds majority. But it was reported apprehensive that the Communists might get in should the assembly decide the seating issue was procedural, with only a simple majority required.

A proposal put in last night by three neutralist supporters of Peiping indicated the United States will need all the votes it can muster to win the procedural maneuver.

Cambodia, Ceylon and Indonesia introduced an amendment to the pro-Peiping Soviet resolution that would drop the demand for expulsion of the Nationalists and simply turn their seat over to Peiping.

Rockefeller Denies He's All Through

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—shaken in recent weeks by the tragic disappearance of his youngest son and by his impending divorce—vehemently denied Tuesday night a published report that he plans to leave public life.

In a statement authorized through his press secretary, the governor said he plans to complete his current term and to run for re-election next year. Rockefeller scheduled a top-level Republican conference in Albany on Dec. 27 to map 1962 campaign strategy.

Republican leaders in the state backed up the governor's statement.

Reports have been circulating for more than a week that Rockefeller would not seek re-election as governor.

In a copyright story last night, the New York Daily News said the governor had informed top GOP leaders of his intention not to run again.

Berlin Casts Shadow Over Paris Meeting

PARIS (AP)—Foreign, finance and defense ministers of the North Atlantic Alliance met today for their annual review with the shadow of the Communist wall through Berlin lomming long over them.

The 15-nation council was expected to give its blessing to a new U.S.-British attempt to reach preliminary terms with the Russians on Berlin.

U.S. Secretary of State Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home disclosed through aides late last night that, after two days of talks with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder, they had softened French reservations about the wisdom of resuming the quest for a Berlin deal.

It was clear, however, that French President Charles de Gaulle still was not convinced that Western-initiated exchanges with Moscow would be worthwhile.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, backed by British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts, is expected to contact Gromyko early in the new year.

Other major issues facing the NATO ministers included:

1. Plans for giving European members some share in the political control of the use of tactical — not strategic — nuclear weapons.

2. President John F. Kennedy's proposal to assign five Polaris-carrying nuclear submarines to NATO, a proposal that raises the complex question of the alliance becoming a sort of nuclear power in its own right.

3. The drive of Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme Allied commander in Europe, to fulfill the seven-year-old NATO target of 30 combat-ready divisions on the ground in Europe.

'Jane's' Says Russ Aircraft Estimate High

Asserts Reds' Display Bunched Up Five Years

LONDON (UPI)—Russia stampeded observers from the United States and other allied countries into over-estimating its air strength by bunching five years of development into one sensational display, "Jane's All the World's Aircraft" said today.

The authoritative aviation and rocket annual reported that close study of the spectacular fly-past on Soviet aviation day in Moscow last July has produced "little evidence" that Russian machines or men are better than their Western counterparts.

FILLED THE AIR

If the U.S. or Britain saved up all its aviation advances from 1956 onward — as Russia did — and filled the air with never-before-seen supersonic fighters, bombers, flying boats, vertical takeoff planes and helicopters, the effect would have been just as startling, the annual said.

"Spectators were so overwhelmed by the succession of new high-performance fighters, bombers, helicopters and flying-boats that, without wasting time on assessing what they saw, many of the newspapermen rushed into print next morning with on-the-spot reports of how superior were the new Soviet types to anything in service with the RAF and the USAF." Jane's said.

LITTLE EVIDENCE

"What must be remembered is that the Russians had not displayed their aviation might in this way for five years. It would be wrong to underestimate the capabilities of Soviet designers or of their aircraft, but there is little evidence that men or planes are superior to their western counterparts;" Jane's said.

It cautioned against going to the other extreme and minimizing Soviet achievements since the Russians have launched a "massive onslaught" on flying records in every category and have managed to establish several new marks.

The most important of these are:

An altitude mark of 113,892 feet by Col. Georgi Mossolov at Podmoskovnoe last April 28 probably in a plane designed by the team responsible for the MIG fighters.

SPEED MARK

A speed mark over a closed 100 kilometer (62.14 mile) circuit of 1481.9 miles an hour by pilot A. Fedotov.

But the United States still holds the other three major records—distance in a straight line (11,235.6 miles), distance over a closed circuit (8,854.3 miles), and speed in a straight line (1,525.92 m.p.h.).

The U.S. North American X-15 experimental plane has flown nearly three times as fast and twice as high as the Russian planes. But it is not eligible for international federation records because it does not take off under its own power. It is launched from beneath a B-52 bomber.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Wintery Weather

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow diminished but the season's coldest weather stung most areas from the Rockies to the Appalachians today.

The zero weather over the Midwest followed heaviest snowfalls of the season in some sections. Strong winds whipped snow into huge drifts in parts of Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, creating a wintry scene more than a week before winter's official start.

The center of the huge mass of arctic air was in the north and central Plains states.

New Satellite Orbiting

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—OSCAR, a 10-pound radio robot, is orbiting the world, beeping "hi" to radio hams from Byrdland, Antactica, to Kodiak, Alaska.

OSCAR — short for Orbiting Satellite Carrying Amateur Radio — was launched yesterday aboard a Discoverer satellite and about 90 minutes later was transmitting the four dots and two dots that spell "hi" in Morse code.

The Discoverer 36 satellite also carried its usual cargo — a capsule of secret instruments that will be ejected within a few days. The Air Force has planes ready to snag the capsule as it parachutes near Hawaii — a feat achieved seven times to date. Three other capsules have been fished from the ocean.

Boy Friends At Work

LONDON (AP) — A British factory owner opened a clubroom for boy friends today to induce his female employees to work overtime.

"The club seems to be the only way to keep everybody happy," said cosmetics manufacturer Eric Lincoln.

Lincoln had asked his 35 female employees to work overtime to keep up with Christmas orders. The girls agreed to work.

Man In Space Plans

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The United States will follow its first manned orbital space flight that is planned for next month with similar man-in-orbit flights every 60 days, a space official says.

James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said at a dinner here last night frequent manned orbital flights will be needed to accumulate data on the phenomenon of weightlessness and its effects on human beings.

This will determine whether to speed up or slow down the next U.S. step in space with a two-man craft.

Missile Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A new F series Atlas missile, designed for long-time storage in underground tubes, has scored its third test success in as many launchings.

The big intercontinental range missile raced 5,000 miles to a south Atlantic target yesterday and unleashed a series of 28 flares in another experiment designed to develop safe capsules for spaceborne nuclear power units.

Average Life: 100

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Heart Assn. predicts the average human will live more than 100 years in the foreseeable future.

The association, noting that heart disease—the No. 1 killer—accounts for 54 per cent of all deaths at present, cited future developments in heart research as a basis for its observation.

'Down With Santa'

VATICAN CITY (AP) —A Vatican weekly newspaper says Santa Claus represents a "monstrous substitution" for the Christ child and "offends the faith."

This "can not and must not be accepted or tolerated by Christians," declared L'Observatore della Domenica in an editorial in its current edition.

The editorial also assailed the Christmas tree as "an attempt to substitute for the crib . . . with a certain sense of naturalism and paganism."

Dominican Future?

SANTO DOMINGO, D.R. (UPI) —Leaders of the opposition party meet here today to map future policy in view of the failure of its efforts to persuade President Joaquin Balaguer to resign.

Delegates from all parts of the country are attending a "national assembly" here to chart the party's future course.

The opposition group is still pressing efforts to force Balaguer out of office, especially in the provincial city of Santiago. Members staged an anti-Balaguer parade in Santiago yesterday.

State Demands Death For Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP) — The State of Israel demanded death today for Adolf Eichman, the Gestapo colonel convicted of major complicity in Hitler's plot to exterminate the Jews.

Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner told the special Israeli tribunal which found Eichmann guilty of capital crimes against the Jews: "There can be one sentence for him and no other."

Hausner did not specify the method. That will be decided by the court if it condemns Eichmann. Israel's basic law follows the British practice, which would mean hanging.

The attorney general based his entire demand for death on a simple charge — genocide. That is the word the United Nations adopted in 1946 as describing the Hitler Reich's plot to wipe out an entire race.

Six million of Europe's 11 million Jews died in what the Nazis called "the final solution to the Jewish problem."

Under the charge of genocide as it fits into Israel's special law of 1950 for punishment of Nazis and their collaborators, the attorney general said the death sentence "is the only punishment" possible.

JENNY GRANTED DIVORCE

Jenny Ann Lindstrom Callaway (left), 22-year-old daughter of Ingrid Bergman, was granted a divorce from her husband, Georgia textile heir Fuller E. (Clay) Callaway III, yesterday in San Francisco. She claimed he pushed her down a stairway while guests watched. With Miss Lindstrom is Mrs. Ellan Nagy, her corroborating witness. (AP Wirephoto)

Nicasio Valley Plan Called 'Desecration'

Marin's new county Supervisor Peter Behr assailed what he termed impending "desecration" of the Nicasio Valley at his first supervisorial session yesterday.

"I believe in developing in an orderly fashion through the planning commission and under its control," said Behr. He pressed for immediate action confirming a comission decision that 205-acre Nicasio Valley Estates should be zoned for 20-acre minimum lots.

But the area lies in Supervisor William Gnoss's district and Gnoss was primarily concerned over a problem of roads, termed by Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham "inadequate now, and certainly so when the population grows."

More than an hour of heated argument followed. It involved attorneys Robert Carrow, representing the developers, Sawyer Mountain Corp., who object to the 20-acre limit, and Raymond H. Shone speaking for nearby property owners, of whom he is one. The supervisors then postponed decision to Jan. 2.

When Carrow asked Supervisor Behr why he said that "the most lovely part of Marin County is going to be desecrated," Behr said small pieces in the vicinity have already been advertised and there is possibility of "density with no control."

Shone upheld the large-lot views of the planners and said that a so-called "agreement" was not satisfactory.

Gnoss admonished both to try to reach settlement, especially about roads, this month.

On another planning manner Behr as a lawyer consented to one-week continuance in an appeal hearing when attorneys for Harry C. Trayer, seeking to rezone for a service station on Tiburon Boulevard east of Knoll Drive against heavy opposition of residents, sent a letter saying Trayer must seek new counsel.

"As an attorney myself I never like to see anything done without proper representation," said Behr. But he warned that he would ask the board to take final action Dec. 19.

The supervisors also:

1. Approved a use permit for G. J. Brady to build an eight-unit motel on the Point Reyes-Inverness road a mile north of Drakes View Drive, a project supported by the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and neighbors.
2. Granted a use permit for an outdoor recreation area to be built by the Northbridge Recreation Club, Santa Venetia.
3. Adopted a preliminary resolution for dissolution of San Rafael Meadows Flood Control Zone No. 6, opposed by residents after a 16-cent tax levy was imposed last year but to be voted on in June. Further action was set for Dec. 18.
4. Granted a $1,135 contract for painting the County Health Department building to Crown Painting Co. of San Rafael, and later authorized the public works department to dicker for cleaning and fireproofing of draperies in the conference room by the same firm.

Three Hurt In Vehicle Accidents

Three persons were injured in a pair of rear-end motor vehicle collisions yesterday afternoon in North Marin.

Frank Lopez, Santa Rosa longshoreman, and Jules Paul Kessler, San Francisco cab driver, were hurt when Kessler's car struck Lopez's stalled truck on Highway 101, less than a mile south of the Sonoma County line, at 3:20 p.m. Lopez suffered chest injury and face and forehead cuts, and was reported in satisfactory condition today at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma. Kessler declined hospitalization for minor cuts and bruises.

Giulio Silva, 86, of 689 Wilson Avenue, Novato, suffered bruises when a truck-trailer he was driving hit the rear of a flatbed truck driven by John Gordon Elder of 330 Holly Drive, San Rafael, which was stopped for a traffic light at South Novato Boulevard at 8 p.m. Silva was treated at Novato Hospital. He was cited by the California Highway Patrol for unsafe speed.

Unmourned

OTTAWA, Kan. (UPI) — An old grave believed to date back to the bloody days of a abolitionist John Brown and border warfare was found in the Franklin County hills of eastern Kansas with the barely visible, hand-scratched words "May His Soual Burn in Hell."

Felony Assault Hearing Is Set

Ignatius Delahanty, 62, of Bolinas, accused of hitting his landlady in an argument over rent last Friday, is scheduled to plead in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow afternoon.

Delahanty appeared before Judge Harold J. Haley yesterday and asked for the public defender to represent him. He is charged with felony assault against Agnes Gunderson, 69, of Alder and Grove Roads in Bolinas.

Supervisor Behr Is Welcomed By Fellow Members

Fast action and an atmosphere of harmony prevailed at yesterday's session of the Marin County Board of Supervisors where Peter Behr of Mill Valley for the first time occupied the seat just vacated by his Mill Valley fellow-citizen J. Walter Blair, recalled by Third District election last week.

"First order of business is to welcome and introduce our new supervisor, Mr. Behr," announced Chairman William D. Fusselman as the meeting convened at 1 p.m. Fusselman is to remain as presiding officer through this month by agreement with Behr, who could cast a deciding vote to unseat him but has said he feels it courteous to let Fusselman propose possible annual rotation.

Fusselman also introduced Mrs. Behr, who rose from the rear of the chamber.

Behr as "freshman" sat quietly smoking a pipe during early business, took his first action in moving a progress payment for Ranch Road, Tara Hill, in his district, but finally went into action when the board reached consideration of county hospital possibilities.

This gave Behr a chance to voice a view often put forward during his campaign against the county building adjacent to Marin General Hospital. Fusselman indicated a degree of concurrence in points made by Behr who ended: "I enjoy the theory of unanimity on the board and I trust that it's going to be the rule."

"You and I are not apart," said Fusselman smilingly.

Another frequently expressed campaign view in support of preserving Marin County loveliness had a rousing workout during consideration of planning matters, with Behr vehemently in support of Planning Commission controls.

The board seemed generally speeded up and closer-knit yesterday.

Novato Administrator Urges Stronger Council Of Mayors

Reorganization of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen to provide a "stronger united front" was urged last night by the city administrator of the county's newest city.

Administrator J. Julien Baget present to the Novato City Council a proposal that the Council of Mayors be reorganized as the "Marin County Conference of Cities," with the following setup:

Each city would have one vote; the organization would have an executive committee of five mayors or councilmen from cities over 10,000 population and three from cities less than 10,000 population (leaving out two of the smaller cities); meetings of the conference would be held in January, March, May, July, September and November; executive committee meetings would be held in February, April, June, October, and December, and a committee of city managers would be set up as part of the organization.

Baget said the need for a tighter organization of the cities was pointed up by the difficulty of reaching agreement with the county on financial participation in improvement of "through" streets. He said he had just received from Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael the third revision of such an agreement.

He said a "united front" is needed to assure that all county services will be available to residents of incorporated cities at no charge additional to the county taxes which they pay at the same rate as those in unincorporated areas.

This proposal will be sent to the cities for the consideration at the January meeting of the council of mayors, the Novato council decided.

Novato Club Allowed To Keep Name

Novato Community Inc., will be allowed to keep its name with its corporate structure.

A delegation, headed by Mrs. George Barnwell, asked the Novato City Council last night to "officially release" the use of the name and the organization of Novato Community, Inc.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. said in his opinion the city had no claim whatsoever on the name of the corporate structure of the organization.

He said he felt the court action giving the city title to the clubhouse did not even consider any effects on the use of the name or the corporate structure of the club.

On recommendation of J. Julien Baget, city administrator, the council accepted assignment of the existing fire insurance policy from Novato Community Inc. In return, the city will forget the $225 in fees collected by the club for use of the building by the Cotillion between Nov. 1, 1961, and Feb. 28, 1962, while ownership was in litigation.

Club members and city council agreed to wait 60 days on a personal property settlement, pending a report by the city administrator on the city's use of the building.

Samuel Hagler, club member speaking for himself, said he hoped the gap between the city council and community club could be closed and that "the two groups would come back together."

Quentin Guard Faces Jury Trial

Rookie San Quentin Prison guard Phillip C. Carter, 32, who smuggled such goodies as cream puffs to inmates, faces a jury trial next February on a charge that he illegally transmitted a letter for a convict.

Carter's attorney, Berwyn A. Rice, appeared before Judge Harold J. Haley yesterday and entered an innocent plea for the guard. A jury trial for Carter was set for Feb. 6 in Marin Municipal Court.

Probation Overtime Payment Is Granted

Prompt and unanimous actions by Marin County supervisors yesterday granted overtime pay to two probation department employees after clearance by the auditor-controller's office of requests by Probation Officer Walter H. Busher. An advance authorization was given in a third case.

This was in marked contrast to past squabbles and denials of Busher's overtime requests. Yesterday Busher had given detailed prompt statements — and Supervisor J. Walter Blair, who has been finance committee chairman frequently in opposition to Busher, had left the board after recall.

Those to be paid are:

Nicholas Minitsky, assistant juvenile hall superintendent, $122 for working on five holidays totaling 40 hours, William Wollitz, deputy probation officer, $23.36 for working eight hours in substitution for an absent deputy.

Busher also asked for and received advance commitment to pay a deputy not to exceed $46.32 for an expected 12 hours' substitute work.

Civic Center Coffee Shop Will Be Blind Operation

Operation of the new county civic center coffee shop by some blind person was assured yesterday.

Nicholas Pappas of San Rafael asked he be granted a concession. Pappas cited extensive New York experience, said he had been in Marin since 1950, has recently sold his restaurant and would be in position to take over.

But Administrator Alan Bruce said the county is about to contract with the State Bureau of Rehabilitation, which will select an operator.

"He must be blind and he is the boss," said Bruce.

Help to be employed must be according to three priorities, Bruce said. Top priority will go to the blind, second to non-blind but handicapped persons, and third to others.

Bruce added that the Marin County Employees' Assn. "is now satisfied that it does not have a role" in the coffee shop operation.

Catholic College Drops Football

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The University of San Diego is dropping football as an intercollegiate sport.

It costs too much, the Very Rev. John Cadden, dean of the college of men, said in announcing the decision to a special student body assembly.

He said that the deficit from the past season was a major factor in the decision.

The university, a young institution, started football with considerable fanfare in September, 1956, when it met the United States Air Force Academy in its initial game.

It won four, lost five and tied one during the past season under Coach Mike Pecarovich.

"We lost money on every game," Father Cadden said.

New Mill Valley Chamber Board Members Elected

Four new members have been elected to the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce board of directors to be installed on Jan. 10, Secretary-Manager Granville L. Beedle said today.

They are Charles F. Berlenbach Jr., Merrold M. Campbell, Gerald Gooch and Lew Tyrrell. They will serve two-year terms and succeed Jack R. Lentz, O. L. (Jack) Greene, John Kobil and William Woods.

Six members of the board of directors, who have one year to serve, are Leonard E. Blakely, Donald W. Chapman, Stephen P. Dimitroff, Lawrence A. Mayer, Luciano A. Sabella and Robert A. Walker.

Looks like Santa has his problems with these youngsters, but he doesn't seem to mind. The reactions were caught by a camera as children visited a department store in Brooklyn yesterday. There were a lot of happy children on hand, too. (AP Wirephoto)

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed mixed today with a tendency toward the down side.

The final minutes of trading were extremely active, causing the tape to run late. Losers were becoming more numerous than gainers, although in most cases changes both up and down were held to fractions or a point.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.9 million shares compared with 4.68 million yesterday.

Tree Light Thefts Have Begun Again

Thefts of outdoor Christmas tree lights have started again, sheriff's deputies warned today.

Hardest hit thus far has been Marinwood, where at least three thefts were reported since yesterday.

Rose Foehr of 1251 Elderberry Drive got up this morning and found a string of about 25 lights gone from her tree outside. She set the loss at $6.

Last night, James Hahn of 455 Quietwood Drive noticed about 20 lights missing from his outdoor decoration. His wife heard noises about 8:20 p.m. but the culprits got away.

Rain Sprinkles Over Marin

The elusive rain that got stuck up north for a day or two, came to Marin today in scattered showers.

Cloudy weather is forecast for tomorrow. Meanwhile it will remain chilly.

Woodacre kept its usual low-temperature record last night with reading of 27 degrees but things eased off at most other Marin County points.

Sausalito thermometers went no lower than 39. Other readings included Belvedere 37, Mill Valley 35, Tamalpais Valley 32, Alto 37 and Novato 33.

Larkspur Woman To Share Estate

A Larkspur woman will share in the estate of Henry Stoneson, Bay Area builder, which was estimated at $1,400,000 in an inventory filed yesterday in San Francisco Superior Court.

The will of Stoneson, who died three years ago, directed that three-quarters of his estate go to his widow, Willette, of San Francisco. The remainder is divided equally between two daughters, Mrs. Eloise A. Preston of 125 Via Lerida, Larkspur, and Mrs. Helen C. Schumacher of Burlingame.

Narcotics Offender Admits Prison Killing

A Los Angeles narcotics offender has admitted stabbing a fellow San Quentin Prison inmate yesterday and leaving him to die under the prison's football bleachers.

Asst. Warden Dale B. Frady said that Robert Q. Dorado, 26, admitted stabbing Abel A. Nevarez, 26-year-old Los County man serving five years to life for peddling narcotics.

Dorado, serving a similar sentence for the same offense, has given no reason for the stabbing, said Frady.

Nevarez's body was found about 8:10 a.m. yesterday by a prison correctional officer. Beside the body were two torn prison jackets and two sharpened stainless steel knives.

Frady said that Dorado was traced through one of the prison jackets.

At first it was thought that Nevaraz had died in a duel but prison officials established later that he was unarmed, said Frady.

er and group counselor in the San Quentin educational program part-time and was also a licensed real estate salesman and public accountant.

He entered county service as an accountant, rising to senior accountant in the auditor-controller's office. He was also appointed data-processing coordinator for the auditor's office.

Fontez's work has been closely tied in with the tax collector-treasurer's office. He has helped set up tax collection systems, audited and did work for the employees retirement system, helped the treasurer with various revolving funds, and set up the present accounting and interest allocation system in conjunction with the treasurer's staff.

He still teaches bookkeeping, accounting, tax and typing in the Tamalpais High School District adult school program and at San Quentin.

Fontez was a Boy Scout as a youth and served as scoutmaster of a San Rafael troop before entering the Army. He is a member of the San Rafael Elks Lodge, Independent Order of Foresters and Marin Rod and Gun Club, and of St. Isabella's Catholic Parish in Terra Linda.

veloping two brick buildings in such rings it will be possible at any rate to prevent collapse.

The repair work won't be unsightly, Engle went on, and 90 per cent of the work will be outside the buildings so that no operation need be discontinued during the repair work.

Queried about cost, Engle said that "the bulk of it will be steel work, at least 75 per cent using 45 to 50 tons of structural steel. I think the cost should not exceed $70,000 and it might be somewhat less."

During later discussion on permanent provision new Supervisor Peter Behr expressed himself as "absolutely dedicated" to the idea that "the only satisfactory thing is to build on 35 acres beside Marin General Hospital, and to operate as a part of that hospital."

Financing, said Behr, could be arranged by skipping one year of construction at the civic center ("which I'm agreeable to") and keeping the tax rate unchanged.

Fusselman indicated that he could see merit to this idea but he stressed conviction that at least most of the present hospital employees should be retained at work.

No action was taken as to permanent facility.

Yule Mail Deliveries Once Daily

Marin County's Christmas mail deliveries will continue once a day as usual instead of being on a twice-daily basis, the San Anselmo Lions Club was told by the post office's regional field officer Tuesday.

Guido Alasia said that all mail reaching delivery offices before 8 a.m. daily will be sent out in one big lot that day. Deliveries will be later than usual because of the heavy load.

This will save money for the post office, said Alasia, for temporary employees will be called in only when each carrier is ready to leave on his trip and he will help on half the route instead of first delivering a complete route, then helping on half of a second trip.

Alasia said recently created sectional centers have speeded up outgoing mails.

Larkspur Planners Seeking Use Of Budget Money

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night requested the city council hold the remaining money budget for the commission and add it to next year's commission budget.

The commission plans to use any excess money from the budget for the cost of a city master plan.

The planners also decided to continue consideration of architectural supervision for the Larkspur Plaza to Jan. 9 meeting. They cancelled the next meeting, which was scheduled for Dec. 26.

The commission retained its present officers, Vaughn Marker, chairman; and Andrew Gilardi, vice chairman, for the next year.

Marin City Pumping Plant Is Accepted

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors last night accepted the enlarged and remodeled pumping plant at Marin City.

Discussion was held on the district's sewer line running across Albert Lovett Corp. property on South Street, but no action was taken. The next meeting, Christmas day, is to be adjourned to Jan. 11, Chairman Loren L. Jay said.

THIS VESTED INTEREST BRINGS SUIT

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Hilton Hotel here has been sued by a San Francisco concert pianist, who claims the hotel failed to return his vest from the cleaners.

In a suit filed yesterday in Allegheny County Common Pleas Court, Ozan Marsh said he suffered extreme mental anguish while performing in a rented vest in Carnegie Hall Nov. 15, 1960.

The suit asks damages in excess of $5,000.

Negro Leader Gets Jail Term

ALBANY, Ga. (UPI) — A group of 74 hymn-singing Negroes knelt in prayer on the courthouse steps today to protest the trial of 11 Freedom Riders. Police broke up the demonstration and a judge sentenced the leader to five days in jail for contempt of court.

Thirty-four other adults were released after Recorders Court Judge Abner Israel ruled in the contempt case of integration leader Slater King.

Earlier authorities had dismissed and escorted away about 40 juveniles who took part in the demonstrations. Several of the minors appeared to be only about seven years of age.

U.N. successes in the Katanga fighting.

George Ivan Smith, U.N. chief in Elizabethville, said Ethiopian soldiers had seized control of the tallest building in the Katanga capital. He said it had been used by Katangan forces as an observation post and for firing mortar shells against U.N. positions.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Elphick, Longtime Nurse Dies

Mrs. Hazel Elphick, 67, a registered nurse at San Rafael General Hospital for more than a quarter century, was found dead at home this morning, apparently from natural causes, San Rafael police reported.

When she failed to appear for work this morning, a colleague went to her home at apartment 5, 1103 Lincoln Avenue, and found her in her bed. Nurse Margaret Casarotti notified police at 7:45 a.m.

An autopsy was to be performed today at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Coroner Frank J. Keaton said she died probably three hours before her body was found.

Mrs. Elphick's son, Eugene, of Santa Rosa, was to come to San Rafael today to make funeral arrangements. Mrs. Elphick also leaves a daughter in San Diego.

ALFRED YOUSE

A Requiem Mass for San Rafael pianist Alfred Youse will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Friday at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael.

Youse, 44, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness. He was known professionally as Al McKay and at one time operated the McKay Dance Studio in San Rafael.

The funeral cortege will leave the Keaton Mortuary, San Rafael, at 9:15 a.m. Interment will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. The Rosary will be recited tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Keaton chapel.

JACOB SALLEE

Jacob W. Sallee, retired freight agent for Northwestern Pacific Railroad, died today in a San Francisco hospital after a long illness. He was 83.

A native of Kentucky, Sallee had made his home for 46 years at 513 Fourth Street, San Rafael. He had worked in the San Rafael office of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad until his retirement seven years ago.

He is surveyed by his daughter, Mrs. Geneva Rapuano of San Rafael and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 10 a.m. at the Keaton Mortuary, San Rafael. Inurnment will be private.

Curriculum Unit Funds Tightened

San Rafael Board of Education members made it plain that they intend to keep a tight financial rein on the curriculum study committee which they created.

The board turned down a request that it appropriate $1,000 for the committee's expenses in preparing and mailing two questionnaires to parents and engaging a series of consultants for one-night appearances.

It went further, refusing to authorize $250 for the first questionnaire until the questionnaire itself is submitted for board approval, and refusing to authorize hiring the first two experts until it knows what their fees will be.

In only one matter did the board grant what the committee asked. It restored the committee to full membership by appointing Frank Parker, president of Terra Linda High School Parent-Teacher Assn., to succeed Rev. Llewellyn White, who resigned last week.

Even that was by a split vote of 3-to-1 (board member C. Paul Bettini being absent). Board member Bella Aaron proposed Dr. William E. Malin, phychologist at San Quentin Prison, for the vacancy, and voted against Parker.

Board members Rev Silvernale and John M. Bagshaw said they felt Malin should be classified as a teacher, therefore should not replace White, a "lay" member of the committee by the educators' definition (although the only cleric on the committee). President Roderick P. Martinelli said he thought the geographic distribution should be maintained, pointing out that Dr. Malin resides in San Rafael whereas Rev. White was appointed from Marinwood.

Supt. Bert C. Corona presented the committee's request for funds. He asked $1,000 to cover the two questionnaires and "four or five consultants."

Silvernale said he thought each item of expense for the committee should be considered individually, rather than a blanket grant of $1,000.

"Then we want $250 for the first questionnaire and funds to hire two consultants on teaching of reading: Mrs. Brown of San Francisco State College and Henrietta Cook of Berkeley," said Corona.

Martinelli wondered whether this meant the committee would be wanting two consultants on every subject.

"This reading area was excellently covered by our own staff," said Bagshaw. "I don't think the curriculum committee needs to be concerned with it . . . I would be against spending any money in this particular area."

"I concur," said Silvernale.

"There are certain areas of concern to us," said Mrs. Aaron.

"I feel the committee would be making more progress by going into those areas first." (Agitation against life adjustment courses in seventh, eighth and ninth grades and "exploratory language" in ninth grade resulted in the board's decision to form the committee.)

Superintendent Corona pointed out that "you showed confidence in these people by appointing them to the committee. If you withhold funds they need, you are not expressing confidence." He suggested that if the board authorize a total outlay of $1,000, "they would know what they have to spend and could hold it to that."

Martinelli told the superintendent he could inform the committee that funds will be granted for the questionnaire "but we want to see it first," and that some consultants will be authorized if designated by name with the specific amount to be paid to each.

Dixie School Is Given $229,258

The State Department of Education's allocation board yesterday granted Dixie School District an additional $229,258 of state loan funds to expand the Don Timoteo School — which will receive its first pupils on Jan. 2.

Seven classrooms, a library and a remedial studies room will be included in the addition, said Asst. Supt. Joseph B. Goff.

Construction of the school, with 10 classrooms, began seven months ago. It will open after Christmas holidays—just in time to prevent two other schools in the district from going on double sessions, according to Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

"The master plan for the school calls for 24 classrooms in anticipation of a continuing population growth in the area," said Goff. "We will continue to add classrooms when justified by the population figures."

Two Are Fined For Loitering In Nicasio

No felony charges were lodged against three men who were found loitering outside Rancho Nicasio restaurant about 1 a.m. yesterday.

Jimmy Ray Armstrong, 26, who is with the Navy submarine base at Pearl Harbor, was cleared of all charges. The other two, Patrick Charles McGee, 22, also of Pearl Harbor, and John Burke, 21, of 349 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, were found guilty of loitering on private property.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced the two to $26.50 fine each and ordered them to be law abiding. McGee drew one year probation, and Burke six months probation.

Sheriff's deputies arrested the trio when McGee emerged from their car and proceeded to load his .22 caliber revolver. Officers booked the three on suspicion of planning to rob the restaurant.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Thomas T. Storer said evidence was not sufficient to warrant any charge more serious than loitering on private property.

McGee said he had stepped out of his car to a lighted area so that he could load his revolver in preparation for jack rabbit hunting.

Contract Is Awarded For Music Building

The San Rafael Board of Education last night awarded a contract for a music building at Terra Linda High School, and called bids for Jan. 9 on girls' physical education facilities at the same school.

Contract for the music building, plus a paved assembly court, two storage units, walkways and benches, was awarded to W. J. Kubon Co. of San Rafael, low of three bidders, at $175,679 — less than $500 under the second low bid of A. von Rotz of San Anselmo. Third bidder was Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross.

Kubon's base bid, on the music building itself, was $134,914. Architect Carl F. Gromme's original estimate — subsequently revised upward — was $89,000 for the building.

The girls' physical education facilities are to include locker rooms, dressing rooms, showers and a classroom. Cost is estimated at $168,000.

The board also awarded a contract to Paddock of California of Corte Madera to repair the San Rafael High School pool at $7,171. Paddock was the only bidder.

Architect Gromme was authorized to proceed with plans for moving the San Rafael High School bus garage and shops to a location at the west end of school property near the No. 2 firehouse, to make way for widening Third Street.

An engineering survey by Whitlow, Hoffman and Albritton of San Rafael preparatory to correcting drainage on the Sun Valley School grounds was authorized at cost not to exceed $200.

Superintendent Corona's proposal to change Ralph K. Hansen from director of instruction in the high schools to director of personnel services in both elementary and high school districts was approved unanimously.

Corona said the change would be made "as soon as possible."

Board member Bella Aaron asked who would be responsible for high school curriculum for the rest of the school year.

"Until we complete our reorganization," replied Corona, "this would rest on the two high school principals and myself."

The board regretfully turned down a request by the San Rafael Elks Lodge for permission to stage a circus on the San Rafael High football field next May. College of Marin has ruled the circus off its field, reported Asst. Supt. Raymond J. Simpson — not because of complaints about the Elks' circus, but because it brought so many other requests for use of the field by "animal shows."

Also at last night's board of education meeting:

1. The board affirmed the expulsion by Principal Alfred. N. Thompson of a 19-year-old San Rafael High senior who entered the school cafeteria drunk last month.

2. Request by residents of Oakdale Drive in Fairhills for bus service to West End School was turned down on the basis that the road is too narrow and winding for safe bus operation.

3. A $568.40 change order on the Terra Linda High pool, to replace square tile around the pool's edge with bull-nosed tile, was approved reluctantly, on motion of Mrs. Aaron. Architect Gromme said he thought Max Schenk, original contractor on the pool, should bear the cost, but the county counsel disagreed with him.

4. The board accepted resignations of Katherine Pitchburn, Sun Valley School teacher, as of next Jan. 26, and Emily R. Pierce, San Pedro teacher, as of Jan. 28.

5. Joan Wedekind, library clerk at Santa Venetia School, was granted a leave of absence to the end of the school year because of illness, and Mrs. Ruth Hill was employed as a six-hour-per-day clerk to replace her. Also employed were Mrs. Helen Theile as a junior high school clerk, Mrs. Claire Montgomery as a six-hour clerk, and Richard Lumford as bus driver.

6. Aboott and Hanks was appointed as testing laboratory, and John Vassity as inspector, for the Terra Linda High music building.

7. A resolution was adopted authorizing employee payroll deductions for the Marin County Schools Federal Credit Union.

8. A contribution to the Frank L. Lucas Memorial Scholarship Fund was received from Harold H. Fulkerson, former board member.

9. The board voted to dispense with its Dec. 26 meeting.

Meeting Canceled

The Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. canceled its business meeting last night because of lack of quorum. Next meeting will be on Jan. 9.

San Rafael Teachers Granted $150 Raises

San Rafael teachers were granted an across-the-board $150 raise for this school year last night by the board of education.

"It wasn't what we hoped," said Philip Olsen, chairman of the salary committee of the San Rafael Teachers Assn., "but we thank you for your consideration." The committee sought a $200 across-the-board hike.

Board president Roderick P. Martinelli noted, however, that added to an increase granted last summer, this represents a $450 across-the-board raise for this year. It puts the minimum salary at $4,950 and the maximum at $9,900. "That's well above the average," said Martinelli.

Supt. Bert C. Corona said the raise will cost a total of $39,000.

The board was a bit more generous in voting raises to assistant principals and teachers-in-charge at elementary schools. Dr. Mildred B. Barnard, assistant superintendent for the elementary district, proposed raises of $250 to $300 for vice principals, and $125 to $150 for teachers-in-charge. The board approved the higher figures for both.

Getting $300 raises will be assistant principals Mrs. Beverly Wormuth at Gallinas School, Lawrence McArdell at Hartzell, Frances Mason at Laurel Dell Intermediate, Mrs. Florence Morse at McPhail, Robert McCurdy at San Pedro, Virgil Birdsall at Santa Venetia, and Elmer Benedict at Sun Valley, Getting $150 raises will be teachers-in-charge Eleanora Lafranchi at Coleman, Mrs. Josephine Clifford at Laurel Dell Primary, Mrs. Barbara Petropolus at Short, and Hillis Newcomb at West End. Mrs. Janet Clark, who has been in charge of the portion of Laurel Dell Intermediate which has been temporarily housed at Davidson, will get a pro-rata for the part of the school year up to Christmas holidays.

Dr. Bernard said the only difference between a vice principal and a teacher-in-charge is that the latter does not have an administrative credential.

The board met with the teacher salary committee for 45 minutes before the start of its regular meeting. The teachers were unable to put over their request for $200 across-the-board, however.

Before the matter came up on the agenda, Prosper Boutet, San Rafael High School teacher, arose to tell the board that when he joined San Rafael schools some four years ago as a fulltime substitute, his take home pay was $381 a month. In his first year on contract, this propped to 310. After four years, it [illegible] now back to $385—barely more than he got in the first place as a substitute.

Novato Turns Trips Down —For Awhile

The Novato City Council turned down three trips for top city employees last night, then abruptly reversed itself.

The council voted 3-to-2 to refuse authorization for City Administrator J. Julien Baget to attend a city managers' meeting in Riverside and for Public Works Director Charles A. Joseph to attend a street and highway conference in Los Angeles and a public works officials' meeting in Oakland. Casting the "no" votes were Councilmen John J. Angeloni, M. E. Silva and Everett Pozzi.

But after disposing of the next item on the agenda, Angeloni said "I feel penitent," and asked that the trips be reconsidered.

Silva and Pozzi felt penitent too. The trips were authorized by unanimous vote.

Water District Sues NWP For Pipe Damage

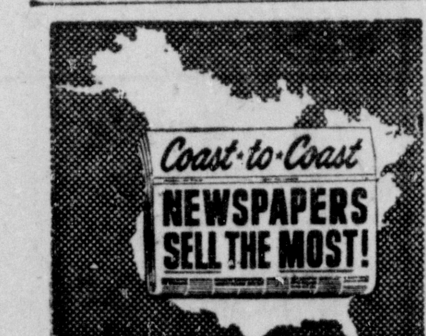
The Northwestern Pacific Railroad was sued for $17,000 for damage to two water pipes of the Marin Municipal Water District under Las Ranchitos Road and Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael.

The district, in a suit filed in Marin Superior Court by attorney Samuel W. Gardiner, said the damage was caused by collapse of the tunnel formerly used by the railroad through Puerto Suello Hill. The tunnel collapsed in a fire last July 20.

The district said a 12-inch pipe was destroyed and an 18-inch pipe damaged to where "destruction became imminent." The district said the collapse forced it to reroute the water lines.

The railroad has petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission to abandon the San Rafael section of its line. San Rafael is fighting the petition.

Georgia, chartered in 1732, was the last of the English colonies established in America; it was named after King George II.



Hub City Council Meets Next Dec. 27

Next regular meeting of the San Anselmo City Council, which would fall on Dec. 26, will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 27 instead.

City councilmen decided that Tuesday is too close to Christmas. City Clerk Anita Gannon said she would appear at the council chamber on Dec. 26 and formally adjourn the meeting until 8 p.m. Dec. 27.

SOUTH AMERICA

on your Christmas tree means a happy holiday in February on the Independent-Journal tour to South America.

Boys Club Begins Yule Tree Sale

Christmas tree sale of the Marin Boys Club was launched yesterday with the opening of tree lots in Novato and Mill Valley.

Staffed by members of the club, the lots were opened at the Purity Store parking lot in Mill Valley and on Grant Avenue, near the Pini Hardware store, in Novato.

Proceeds from the sales are used to support the Pop Warner Baseball League and the Stu Anderson scholarship fund. The club awards $200 annually to one of its members from the scholarship fund.

Ailing Novato Trees Could Cost $1,500

What are the stately old pine trees along Novato Boulevard worth?

Most of the residents along the street would set their esthetic value quite high.

However, Novato city councilmen shuddered last night when it heard what those trees might cost the city.

Three of them are dying and should be removed, Charles A. Joseph, director of public works, told the council. The trees are on the road right-of-way, so the city is responsible for them, according to Joseph.

Joseph said he had one estimate of $500 per tree for cutting them down.

The council authorized him to get more estimates. The three trees to be removed are at 1707, 1826 and 1839 Novato Boulevard.

Almonte Club Party

Almonte Improvement Club will hold a party for Almonte residents on New Year's Eve at the club at Almonte Boulevard and Wisteria Way. It will start at 9:30 p.m. and will include dancing and midnight refreshments, according to president Frank R. Little.

BETTER NOT BE BETTOR IN NOVATO

"Partner, you can't play poker here—it's already illegal."

That might well be the answer given to an impressive looking document presented to the Novato City Council.. last night.

Cudahy Improvement Assn., Inc. of Cudahy, Los Angeles County, sent Mayor Wayne Womack and the city council a three-page document enlisting their aid in outlawing draw poker and low ball draw poker in California.

The council instructed city Administrator J. Julien Baget to answer that Novato has a city ordinance outlawing draw poker.

San Jose Hires Two Teachers

Two teachers for the new classes in the San Jose School District were hired by the board Monday night.

They are Mary P. Bowen, who will teach second grade at Loma Verde School, and Margaret Jones, who will teach fourth grade at Pacheco School.

These two classes will be created during the Christmas vacation to relieve some of the load now being carried by double sessions, said Supt. Phillip W. Schneider.

Rains Bring Novato Storm Drain Problem

Recent heavy rains brought a new storm drain problem to the Novato City Council last night.

Charles A. Joseph, director of public works, reported to the council that a county-approved storm drain in Forest Park Subdivision No. 1 had clogged during the rains. Joseph said he took it on himself to open the drain with city street department labor. He asked the council to set a policy on such matters for the future.

Councilman John J. Angeloni asked what Marvin W. Brigham, Marin County director of public works, would have done. Joseph said Brigham would have done nothing.

The council then asked Joseph to make a report on what other cities do about such drains, and to estimate the cost in man hours to keep them open.

The council designated Sunset Parkway as a through street from South Novato Boulevard to the northeast end of the Parkway and ordered a stop sign on Villa Place at Virginia Avenue and a "yield" sign on Ferris Drive at Feliz Road.

In other action, the council:

1. Set the valuation of the Novato community building at $93,000 and authorized the purchase of title insurance for $466 from the North Marin Title Co.
2. Reappointed Frank Baccaglio to a two-year term on the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District board.
3. Asked City Administrator J. Julien Baget to report to the council on the progress made on improving Center Road and Industrial Way.

Chief Warns To Tell Neighbors When Going Away

Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt asked Sausalito residents today to advise their neighbors when they go away on Christmas or other vacations.

This, said Goerndt, is helpful to police since neighbors can usually tell if a strange person is around their neighbors' house and notify police.

He cited the presence of mind of Trevor Evans of 35 Marie Street, who assisted police in capturing Troy Hayward Sunday. Hayward had moved in and helped himself to facilities and clothing of John S. Rasmussen of 251 Cazneau Avenue while Rasmussen was on vacation.

HUB TOLD FLOOD CONTROL PROPOSAL

Fusselman, Army Engineers Outline $6,950,000 Corte Madera Creek Plan

Supervisor Chairman William D. Fusselman and a representative of the Army Corps of Engineers appeared before the San Anselmo City Council last night and explained a $6,950,000 flood control plan for Corte Madera Creek.

Bertrand H. Voss, civil engineer in the planning and reports branch of the Army Corps of Engineers, said the project would improve the creek all the way from Greenbrae to Fairfax. All of the creek through San Anselmo would be concrete lined.

The total cost of land acquisition and construction would be borne by federal and state appropriations. The federal government would put up $5,770,000 and the state $1,180,000, Fusselman reported.

The only cost to Ross Valley residents would be the annual maintenance cost of about $26,000. This would amount to about 3 or 3½ cents tax per $100 valuation, Fusselman estimated.

Some of the San Anselmo city councilmen wanted to know whether the city would have anything to say about how the creek through San Anselmo is improved, and what buildings or trees may have to come down.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said one or more public hearings would be held. If property owners representing more than one-half the assessed valuation of Ross Valley objected, the project would be killed.

In drawing up the project, the Army Engineers will deal with only one local agency, which would be the County Board of Supervisors.

"If you are to participate, you'll have to delegate authority to us," said Fusselman. However, he said county supervisors would consult with various cities in Ross Valley before proceeding.

He said all cities in Ross Valley must eventually pass resolutions or have a popular vote approving the project before the plan can proceed.

"If you don't want to join up, we won't fight it," said Fusselman. "But you'll simply have to answer to residents who have been calling for this for years."

Fusselman said no action was needed by the city council last night. "This is just a courtesy to let you know what is going on." He said he plans to make similar presentations in other cities.

San Anselmo Mayor Election Discussed

Why shouldn't the mayor of San Anselmo be elected by the people instead of being chosen on a rotation basis by the five elected councilmen?

This question was posed last night by Councilman Robert E. Rouse, who said he thinks the post of mayor would carry more prestige if the mayor were elected directly by the people. Rouse added that he would like to see the city treasurer appointed instead of elected.

City. Atty. John G. Buresh said he will investigate to see if any provision in the law would preclude the election of the mayor and the appointment of the city treasurer.

Buresh said he hopes to have a report ready by the next meeting, set for Dec. 27.

In other actions last night, the San Anselmo City Council:

1. Voted to send a letter to Golden Gate Bridge District Directors, urging them to act immediately to reconsider the possibility of rapid transit over the Gate Bridge.

2. Received two bids for three new Chevrolet police cars. Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet of Mill Valley offered three cars at a net cost of $4,445.45. Delong Chevrolet of San Rafael submitted a bid for $4,855.74. Delong pointed out that its cars include special police equipment. Councilmen asked City Administrator Douglas Flautt to study the bids with Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani and make a choice.

3. Called for bids on a one-ton pickup truck for the fire department. Cost is expected to be within $2,500. Bids will be opened on Dec. 27.

4. Granted an extension until Feb. 27 for the Town Center Citizens Committee to report its findings to the council. Mozart Kaufman heads the committee, which is studying the proposed downtown project, including street improvement and offstreet parking.

5. Administrator Flautt's report on the propose to reactivate the tree committee and to create a study group on parks and recreation was postponed because Flautt was absent with flu.

6. Mayor Carleton G. Little was authorized to proclaim the last part of January as "Anti-Communism Week." Mayor Little said he had been sent a proclamation to sign but had left it home. Administrator Flautt was to present one for reading last night, but he was ill at home. Councilmen approved the proclamation without a reading.

SPEAKING AS PRIVATE CITIZEN
Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker sharply criticized the United Nations, U.S. foreign policy and censorship of the military last night in his first public address as a civilian. Walker, speaking in Dallas, said he resigned his Army commission because he "could no longer serve in uniform and be collaborator with the release of United States sovereignty to the United Nations." Hub City Is Again Neutral On Tunnel

San Anselmo city councilmen, who last month decided to oppose abandonment of Northwestern Pacific Railroad's tunnel in San Rafael, decided last night to take another look.

The council rescinded its earlier stand after hearing from two Northwestern Pacific officials, Lewis E. Renner, special representative, and S. J. Mackie, superintendent.

Renner declared it would cost nearly a million dollars to repair the Puerto Suello Hill tunnel which was gutted by fire last July 20. The cost would make it economically unfeasible, Renner said. Furthermore, he said, freight traffic which formerly used the tunnel has been re-routed, and the cost of building materials to Marin remains unchanged.

"We ask you to be neutral unless you have good reasons not to," Renner asked.

Last month, San Rafael asked San Anselmo to join in opposing the abandonment of the tunnel.

San Anselmo councilmen decided to go neutral again and invited San Rafael to attend the next meeting on Dec. 27 to explain their side.

Lighting Expert Reports On Downtown San Anselmo

Curved aluminum pole light standards with medium-powered mercury lamps were proposed for downtown San Anselmo last night by Dan Finch, lighting expert from University of California.

City councilmen called in the lighting specialist because they could not agree on what type of street lights to adopt for San Anselmo Avenue.

The davit-type proposed by Finch is a single-sweep curved pole that extends six feet into the street. The pole would be about six inches in diameter at the base and taper to about an inch and a half at the curved end. It is a type which the city fathers had not discussed in the past.

City councilmen thanked Finch for a "fine report" and decided they would like to see divit-type lights in operation before making a decision. Finch said Berkeley has some of these lights in use.

Instead of cutting down on the number of existing lights (26 units), the same locations should be used for the new poles and perhaps three more poles added, Finch recommended. Cutting down the number and using stronger lamps would cause glaring and spotty patterns on the roadway, Finch said. Furthermore, the use of existing locations would mean that the existing underground conduits could be used.

Finch recommended against powerful 400-watt lamps that would light up the street like San Rafael's "Great White Way." They would destroy San Anselmo's "atmosphere," he said.

From the Ross border to Tunstead Avenue the lamps could be of 175 watts, from Tunstead to Tamalpais 250 watts, and from Tamalpais northward 175 watts, Finch suggested. Existing lights give off 4,000 lumens, whereas 175 watts would give 7,000 lumens and 250 watts would provide 11,000 lumens. The electrical load would be less than is now used, and the lighting level would be four or five times the present lights, Finch reported.

He estimated that the 29 new lights could be installed within the $6,892 budgeted for downtown lights.

For holidays and special occasions, floodlights could light up the city hall tower and facade of the building, and modern type lighting could be used along the walkways, he suggested.

He said outlets from light poles for decorative street lighting are not feasible because the light poles have high voltage lines, whereas outlets would require low voltage. He suggested that the city work with merchants to see if outlets can be provided on store fronts every 100 or 200 feet.

Mill Valley Harbor Plan Hearing Monday

Reconsideration of the final approval of Mill Valley's $300,000 loan to build a small craft harbor will be on the agenda of the small craft harbors commission at its meeting Monday in San Diego, Mill Valley City Manager A. E. Almcrants said today.

Shrine Classic To Pass $4 Million Mark For Crippled Kids This Year

HANLEY

Bill Coffman's eyes twinkled happily today. The reason the managing director of the annual East-West Shrine game could not conceal his joy was understandable as he reported:

"This year we are going to top the $4,000,000 mark in total contributions to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children."

The 37th East-West football classic, to be played in Kezar Stadium Dec. 30, will net close to a quarter of a million dollars. Last year's game earned $246,770.47 and that was the sixth consecutive time that the $245,000 mark was passed.

"No other charity football game of any description can approach that mark," said Coffman.

Now 77, Coffman seems to grow younger each year. He admits that he certainly feels younger with the approach of each new East-West game.

"BUT IT wasn't always that way," he says. "That first one back in 1925 had its organizational problems and for a few years thereafter rough spots needed a bit of smoothing."

Coffman didn't say so but he operated with such energy and efficiency in those early years that today's smooth East-West program was inevitable. He has been the game's only managing director since its inception.

One of his first edicts was that there would be no pay for anyone in the Shrine game, that every penny of profit would be used for the benefit of crippled children.

ONLY TIME we ever saw him boiling with anger was a year ago when the founder of the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., charged that players in the East-West game received payment in addition to expenses.

"Since the inception of the East-West game in 1925," Coffman snapped in reply, "no coach or player has ever been paid a salary, fee or bonus of any kind. All transportation, housing and hotel bills are paid directly by the East-West committee. Each player has always been given $25 when leaving home to cover incidentals and $100 when returning, a total of $125, as reimbursement for out-of-pocket expense.

"EACH COACH is provided likewise with transportation, housing and food and turns in an expense account for out-of-pocket expense during the entire training period. This has averaged about $160 and has never exceeded $300 in the case of each coach. Obviously, they work for charity only."

Babe Hollingberry, first coach of the West team and now its business manager, wasn't as diplomatic in his language when he heard about the play-for-pay charges.

"Whoever said that is a liar, crazy or misinformed," said Babe.

Bronco Soph Sparkles In Win Over Cal

Santa Clara finally called on Bob Garibaldi for help and the big boy came through like a champion.

The heralded soph had been content to feed his teammates most of the time as the Broncs breezed to four straight wins, but last night Santa Clara met its toughest test at Berkeley, where they faced California.

Garibaldi hit 18 against the famed California defense as the Broncs kept on the unbeaten trail with 53-46 win over the Bears.

California was not able to do much with Santa Clara's zone defense, but Dick Smith kept the Bears in the ball game with his outside shooting. He ended the evening with 15 points.

The Broncs will be tough to keep from the West Coast Athletic Conference title off their showing to date.

But the two teams given the best chance of doing it also turned in strong wins last night as the WCAC made an impressive showing all-around.

LOYOLA ROMPS

In Honolulu, defending champion Loyola grabbed a 46-15 half-time lead over Hawaii, and then coasted to a 79-60 victory.

Jerry Grote had 17 for the winners and Ed Bento, a Hawaiian himself, tallied 16 for the Lions. Al Birtles scored 15 for the Rainbows.

The unheralded San Jose Spartans faced Fresno State last night in a meeting of the unbeatens and won with frightening ease, 71-42. It was the fifth straight for the Spartans.

Dannis Bates, not usually a big scorer, was all over the court as he meshed 21 and grabbed 14 rebounds.

The game was settled on the boards where the Spartans dominated rebound play by a startling 53-18 count.

Santa Anita List

ARCADIA (AP) — Crimson Satan and Donut King, winners of this year's two richest horse races, head a list of 121 nominees for the 25th running of $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby March 3.

In 1957, the first year that the PGA held a hole-in-one contest, Dr. Fred W. Whitaker, a minister, was the winner. He scored an ace on the 196-yard 16th hole at Penobscot Valley Golf Club, Bangor, Maine. Eleven other aces were scored in the 1957 contest.

49ERS FAVORED OVER COLTS, BUT . . .

Unitas, Berry, Moore Keep Hickey Awake These Nights

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Quarterback Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts has a jammed finger on his passing hand that is said to impair his accuracy.

The Colts' Ray Berry was recently described by a television commentator as being held together with tape.

But Unitas, Berry and their teammate, Lenny Moore—who is healthy—have San Francisco 49er Coach Red Hickey staying awake nights, he says.

Hickey's 49ers are 6½-point favorites to beat the Colts at Kezar Stadium Saturday afternoon. The game will be the last of the season for both teams.

Hickey says he thinks Unitas, Berry and Moore could reverse the odds in a hurry.

"I don't know where you could find any tougher defensive assignment. Add Jimmy Orr, the guy who beats us with that circus catch at Baltimore and you know why I'm not getting any sleep," Hickey said Tuesday.

"It's a matter of alertness on all of them and, Moore's case, some extra special tackling because that guy'll run away and hide if you don't dig the clamps in him."

Baltimore figures to put some extra effort into the 49ers game. For one thing, the Colts are out to break a West Coast jinx that has brought them only three victories in 13 games.

And there is talk in Baltimore that Coach Weeb Ewbank is on his way out. If that is true, thisc ould be Ewbank's last game with the team he developed into a National Football League power.

In the 49er camp, halfback J. D. Smith sat out Tuesday's practice. He missed last week's game because of a leg injury and is doubtful for the Colts.

The 49ers announced Tuesday the signing of their No. 2 draft choice, center Ed Pine of Utah.

TWO TOP 49ER DRAFT PICKS INK CONTRACTS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers have signed two of their top prospects for 1962, fullback Keith Luhnow of Santa Ana Junior College and linebacker Ed Pine of Utah.

Luhnow had two years of eligibility left, but decided to forego college and play for pay. He was the sixth draft choice of the Prospectors. He weighs 227 pounds, but still managed to score on several long touchdown runs this year.

Pine, who stands 6-foot-5 and weighs 228 pounds, was the 49ers' second draft choice and third pick of the arch-rival Oakland Raiders of the American Football League.

Bill Yeoman Named New Houston Coach

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — William F. "Bill" Yeoman is the University of Houston's fifth head football coach.

The 33-year-old backfield assistant at Michigan State was hired yesterday by a screening committee that picked him unanimously.

He will replace Hal Lahar, who resigned in September but stayed on to coach the Cougars to a 6-4 season against tough opponents that included Alabama and Auburn.

The Bird Succumbed, But Dog And Man Survived To Hunt Again

STEVENS

The world looks brighter to a woman when she is wearing a new hat, it is said. To an editor a new typewriter does the same. Hence the chatty, interesting club bulletin typed out by Roy Abbott, secretary of the Castro Valley Rod and Gun Club, on his new keyboard.

Particularly lively is Roy's description of a recent trip after pheasants made by Bill Andrade and Chuck Fara. As Abbott reports it: "The bag consisted of one rooster, one dog and one man. Bill killed the bird, Chuck shot the dog and Don Edwards, a third member of the party, shot off the end of his right thumb. All are recuperating except the pheasant—they ate him.

Judging by the bulletin, elk hunting in Montana was productive, with two of the club members bagging a six pointer apiece. Lake Berryessa was non-productive and the same was true of certain sections of the back country, with Frank's Tract falling short of expectations.

IT IS QUITE evident that the South County boys bypassed the trolling for striped bass in the lower San Pablo-Red Rock - California City - Richardson Bay areas. Perhaps the fastest limits have been taken the past few days in that region since spring.

At the present writing all reports of bait fishing off the Marin side of the bay indicate a preponderance of small and small-medium stripers. The larger fish seem to prefer bullheads for bait. Some really good catches of lunkers are reporter by the anglers on the Contra Costa side of the bay. The big majority has been taken on bullheads. The catches reported cover a wide range of water from Point Pinole to Rodeo, but buoy 10 seems to have been the most persistent yielder of big bass.

I asked several of the boat rental operators whether many flounders were being taken. The consensus seems to be that there are plenty of the flatties scattered throughout the San Pablo Bay and the lower Suisan Bay, but that those which have been caught were more or less accidental. As Joe Nerviani, of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia, and Frank Joseph of Rodeo told it—hardly anyone is actually fishing for flounders; they are all trying for that big bass with hooks that are somewhat too large for flounders.

AS I HAVE often stated many real epicures of fish food claim the fillet of freshly caught flounder, properly prepared, is the ultra-ultra of tastiness. Try using small hooks and small pieces of bait and catch yourself a mess of flounders. Separate the two sides with a cleaver or a knife, slip the blade between the skin and the flesh. Have ready a dish with a mixture of one can evaporated milk and two teaspoons of prepared mustard. Dip each boneless fillet into the mixture and then in a dish of seasoned flour. Have ready a skillet with piping hot lard, butter or bacon drippings. Drop your fillet in the pan, allow it to stay only long enough for it to brown on each side and remove. Set a plate of flounder fillets prepared as above in front of the most finicky fish food lover you know and if he doesn't ask for seconds, send him to a doctor. His taste buds must have faded.

Reports from the steelhead streams mention a flock of avid anglers but a lack of cooperation on the part of the seagoing rainbow. Oh, some are being caught, but it actually is a bit early for the main runs to get under way. But, more glory if you catch 'em now.

Tomales Edges Alumni In Cage Thriller, 43-40

George Bianchi bucketed 19 points last night to lead the Tomales High basketball team to a thrilling 43-40 victory over an alumni all-star team. Bill Poncia's 12 markers led the losers.

In the Class B action the alumni won 39-30 behind Terry Moreno's 19 points.

Iowa Stater Top Gainer

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dave (Happy) Hoppmann of Iowa State moved the football almost a mile—1,638 yards—to win individual offense honors among major college players during the past season.

The National Collegiate Service Bureau released final figures showing that the versatile Iowa State back gained 920 yards rushing and 718 by passing.

Hoppmann played in only nine of the 10 games of a team which ranked 67th in the country on offense.

Hoppmann finished with more than a 100-yard edge over his closest challenger, Pat McCarthy of Holy Cross, who rolled up 1,509 yards.

In third place came Ron Miller of Wisconsin, with 1,449, followed by Chon Gallegos of San Jose State, Eddie Wilson of Arizona and John Furman of Texas Western.

Dodgers Face Busy Spring Barnstorming

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers are scheduled to go barnstorming next spring on a 31-game spring training junket that will take them to four states and match them with every major league team except Houston, the club announced yesterday.

Highlights of the schedule will be a long awaited meeting with the Los Angeles Angels. The Dodgers meet the Angels for the first time April 2, at the Polo Grounds in Palm Springs.

The club opens spring training against the Kansas City Athletics at Vero Beach, Fla. on March 10, and winds up its slate with three games against the Milwaukee Braves, April 7-8.

The Dodgers finish the Florida portion of their schedule March 29 against the world champion New York Yankees. They then travel to Las Vegas, Nev., for two games with Cleveland. They play four games in Arizona April 3-6, and then return to Southern California to close out against the Braves.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

MANILA — Arthur Persley, 133¼, Red Cross, La., outpointed Solomon Boysaw, 135, Cleveland, 10.

Wilt Picking Up Steam In Point Making

NEW YORK (AP) — It hardly seems possible, but there is a chance that Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors is just beginning to find the scoring range in the National Basketball Assn.

In his third NBA season and with a long list of records already to his credit, the 7-foot-1 scoring machine set another one last Friday night with a 78-point performance in the midst of his best week as a pro. In five games he totaled 272 points and in three starts over a 48-hour period this past weekend he cashed in 194.

The big burst, of course, was the 78 against Los Angeles in a triple overtime match which the Warriors lost 151-147. Wilt's records in that one were most points, most field goals made and attempted-31-for-62, and most free throw attempts-31.

Chamberlain followed up with 61 points as the Warriors beat Chicago 135-113 Saturday and 55 in a 118-109 victory over Chicago Sunday. NBA statistics show he has 1,242 points in 26 games for a 47.8 average—10 points above his record lifetime average.

Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor is runnerup in scoring with 1,040 points and a 37.1 average.

500 See Volleyball Tourney At Redwood

More than 500 persons, mostly mothers and fathers, attended the first annual Redwood Elementary School District volleyball tournament last night at Redwood High School, announced director Dick Hart.

Two hundred and fifty boys and girls participated with Reed school winning the boys' division and Kent School the girls' division.

New Oakland Field Ahead Of Schedule

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Recreation Department reported today that work is progressing ahead of schedule at Frank Youell Field, where the Oakland Raiders will perform next year.

When work is completed, it is expected to seat 23,000 and will serve as a home for the Raiders until the big Municipal Stadium is completed in two or three years.

When Princeton and Rutgers played the first American football game in 1869, some Princetonians roared out a lusty "Siss, boom, ah." The shout derived from the rocket yell of the Seventh Regiment of New York which had passed through the Princeton, N.J., campus during the Civil War.

MARIN PLACES TWO STARS ON ALL-LEAGUE

Two College of Marin stars landed first team honors on the Golden Valley Conference's All-League football squad which was selected and announced today by coaches.

They are quarterback Ron Blum and end Jim Lucas. Blum since has signed a professional baseball contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Oops! Dodgers In Schedule Boo-Boo

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers' new Chavez Ravine Stadium was nearly the site of baseball's weirdest doubleheader — two games being played at the same time.

The Dodgers discovered yesterday they had a home game scheduled with the Philadelphia Phillies the same night the American League Los Angeles Angels had a game slated with the Washington Senators.

The Dodgers, who share the new stdium with the Angels, changed their conflicting May 28 date to Aug. 9.

Saints Lose, Try Again In S.F. Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The American Basketball League stages its first doubleheader in San Francisco tonight. The Angeles Jets meet Hawaii in the opener and the host Saints clash with the Washington Tapers in the second game.

Hawaii, last place team in the Western Division, defeated its Eastern Division counterpart, Washington, 84-81 last night and Los Angeles edged San Francisco 96-89 in a twin bill in Los Angeles.

Dave Mills hit 28 points for Hawaii, six of them in the closing minutes to put the game on ice for the Chiefs.

Larry Friend's three-pointer with seconds left nailed down the Jets' win. Bill Spivey led Los Angeles with 29 points. Kenny Sears got 24, and Gene Brown and Whitey Bell 16 each, all for San Francisco.

Los Angeles led at the half 45-43.

Washington's Ron Kaiser, who set an ABL single game record recently with 51 points, will make his first San Francisco appearance tonight. Kaiser also leads the loop in three-point field goals, an ABL innovation, with 32, two of them coming last night. Kaiser totaled 19 for the evening.

Golfer Walter Hagen captained seven United States Ryder Cup teams.

Redwood Kids Mark End Of Perfect Year

Twenty-seven consecutive victories is the record of Marin County's Redwood Junior Giants who officially closed their great 1961 football season Sunday evening at a team banquet.

The Pop Warner League football team won its second national junior championship trophy Nov. 23 with a 51-28 victory over the Meridian, Idaho, Athletic Association in the Bronco Bowl at Boise.

The victory wound up the third perfect season under the guidance of Coach John Pagliero, 25, who is majoring in physical education at the College of Marin.

"We have a tough time getting equipment, uniforms and paying traveling expenses," Pagliaro explained.

"Right now I am at one of our two Christmas tree lots, selling trees to make money for the team.

"Contributions from friends, relatives and team members enabled us to charter a bus which took 37 boys and 3 coaches to Boise."

Players 11 to 13 years, and 123 pounds or under are eligible for the team, organized four years ago.

SINGLE WING

Pagliaro took charge three years ago and installed the single wing formation, with amazing success from the start.

Pagliaro is single, 6 feet, 215 pounds, wears eyeglasses and has crewcut brown hair. He played high school football at Napa and at Paramount Junior High at Los Angeles.

His assistants are Ron Stuart, 29, defensive coach who is a railroad accountant and former pro baseball player, and Tom Lannert, 21, end and line coach. Lannert, a cabinet maker, was captain of Marin County's Redwood High School team in 1958.

"We have some real good boys," Pagliaro said. "Our tailback is team captain Danna Salata. He and Tommy Sather and Pete Bricca scored consistently." Each is 13 and won't be eligible next year.

"I think the team's success is due to the boys' intense desire to play, with them putting out 100 per cent efforts to win."

But Can He Twist?

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP) — Pvt. Barney Oheltoint Jr., at the Ft. Carson Army Training Center, claims the Indian hoop dancing title, won in 1960 at Anadarko, Okla., his home town. He is a Kiowa.

Four Marin League Quintets Score Impressive Victories

San Rafael, Redwood, Drake and Tamalpais high schools of the Marin County Athletic League all scored impressive basketball victories in practice games yesterday with Bay Area rivals.

The scoreboard showed these final scores: San Rafael 44, Sonoma 26; Redwood 45, Mission of San Francisco 29; Drake 29, Lowell, also of San Francisco, 22 and Tamalpais 58, Concordia 18.

San Rafael's Bulldogs once again were sparked by their 6-foot-2-inch sophomore star Rod Monti who pumped 20 points through the mesh.

Another 20-point performance, this one by Jay Johnson, led the Redwood Giants' victory. Giant Don Rogers turned in a superb defensive game and collected 13 rebounds as the Giants led all the way.

Drake's Pirates, champions of the Marin League's Christmas Tournament last weekend, scored 11 points to Lowell's 6 in the final period to win going away after leading by only 18-16 at the end of the third period.

John Wallace led the Pirates with 11 points.

Seals To Play In Berkeley Tonight

Berkeley (AP)—The San Francisco Seals meet the Bay Area All Stars in an exhibition hockey game at Berkeley's Iceland tonight.

The All Stars are leading players of the Northern California Ice Hockey League.

The Seals return to Western Hockey League action at San Francisco's Cow Palace Friday and Saturday nights when they meet the Portland Buckaroos.

MARIN HANDED 2ND STRAIGHT CAGE SETBACK

Freshman Randy Petrini continued his sharp shooting, but his College of Marin Tar basketball teammates suffered their second straight loss, 85-80, to Contra Costa College at San Pablo last night in a non-conference game.

Petrini, who won the Marin Athletic League individual scoring championship as a San Rafael High School star last season, tallied 26 points last night. It was Petrini's second straight high performance, having tallied 20 last Saturday night against Vallejo.

Lynn Livie followed Petrini in last night's high-scoring affair with 20. Other Tar leaders were Bill Wallace with 12 and Dave Neumann with 10.

Coach Cal Riemcke takes his Tars to Sierra this weekend for the Golden Valley Conference Tournament.

Courageous Pastor To Be Honored

A Baptist preacher who tried to close bawdy houses at Winnemucca, Nev. and got fired from his weekday lumber job there will be honored tomorrow by his alma mater.

Students at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry, where Rev. La Vern A. Inzer was a student, have been busy since Thanksgiving raising funds.

Tomorrow noon at a student assembly, the militant minister will be given a used car and some food.

Rev. Inzer, pastor of Winnemucca's First Baptist Church, filed a complaint against bawdy houses in that Nevada city. He charged they were public nuisances. He then was fired as bookkeeper for a Winnemucca lumber yard.

His congregation sent a letter to the Nevada State Journal in Reno saying his stand on houses of prostitution brought his discharge.

The minister said he since has received a letter from Roger Foley, Nevada attorney general, saying:

"It is a sad state of affairs when a zealous minister of the gospel jeopardizes the welfare of his family when he seeks only to have the law enforced. Or, stated otherwise, in Winnemucca a minister's family must suffer privation so that houses of prostitution can operate and public officials can flaunt the law."

Rev. Inzer later withdrew his complaint against the bawdy houses, saying their closure "was the district attorney's responsibility, not mine or my church's."

The houses were operating legally.

Students at the seminary learned of the minister's economic plight when its chapel choir sang at Inzer's church during a four-state tour. When they returned to the campus they started "Project Winnemucca."

HANDSOME ARRAY of company desserts brings the holiday feeling to your dinner table with traditional tarts and small frosted raisin jumble cakes, shown here with a crown cake. They are filled with chopped fruits and nuts for added color and taste. The cookies have a sweet tart frosting gaily decorated with the colorful fruits. The tarts are filled with dark and golden raisins.

Plum Pudding Tarts

Tarts are a pleasant change from the usual fruit cake for holiday dessert and yet these Plum Pudding Tarts have a somewhat similar flavor to the more traditional dessert.

PLUM PUDDING TARTS

⅓ cup dark seedless raisins
⅓ cup golden seedless raisins
⅓ cup candied fruits and peels.
1 envelope plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup sugar
¼ cup sifted flour
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. nutmeg
1½ cups milk
3 eggs, separated
2 tbsps. light molasses
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. rum or brandy flavoring
¼ tsp. cream of tartar
½ cup whipping cream
8 baked (3-inch) tart shells

Coarsely chop raising and candied fruits. Soften gelatin in water. Sift ½ cup sugar, flour, salt and nutmeg together; combine with milk. Cook over moderate heat, stirring, until mixture boils and thickens. Add a little of the hot mixture to beaten egg yolks, then stir them quickly into hot filling. Add softened gelatin, stirring to dissolve; blend in molasses and flavorings. Cool; when mixture begins to thicken and mound in a spoon, beat egg whites with cream of tartar to soft peaks; beat in remaining ½ cup sugar to make stiff meringue. Fold into gelatin along with stiffly beaten cream. Gently fold in raisins and candied fruits. Spoon into baked tart shells; chill until firm. Makes 8 tarts.

JUBILEE RAISIN JUMBLES

½ cup sthortening (half butter
1½ cups sugar
1½ tsps. vanilla
½ tsp. almond extract
2 large eggs, well beaten
2¾ cups sifted flour
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. soda
1 cup dairy sour cream
1½ cups dark or golden seedless raisins
½ cups candied cherries or mixed candied fruits, chopped
Butter Frosting

Cream shortening, sugar and flavorings until fluffy. Beat in eggs, Sift flour, salt, baking powder and soda together. Add to creamed mixture alternately with sour cream. Stir in fruits. Drop dough in small mounds onto lightly greased baking sheets, spacing about 2 inches apart. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove cookies to wire racks to cool. Ice with Butter Frosting and decorate with raisins and candied fruits. Makes about 3½ dozen cookies.

BUTTER FROSTING: Beat together until fluffy and smooth: 2 cups sifted powdered sugar, ¼ cup soft butter, 1 teaspon each lemon juice and vanilla and about 2 tablespoons cream.

BIG FLAVOR

Bake Tiny Fruitcake Gifts

Make a batch of this fruitcake, bake it in miniature loaf pans, and you'll have eight delicious small gifts from your kitchen to delight friends.

The small aluminum pans in which these cakes are baked are inexpensive and widely available in variety stores. We use the pans not only at Christmas but all the year through for baking quick and yeast breads, molding gelatin salads and desserts.

MINIATURE FRUITCAKES

1½ cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon mace
½ cup each raisins and currants (rinsed in hot water and drained)
1 cup (half of a 1-pound jar) mixed diced candied fruits and peels
1 jar (4 ounces) diced candied pineapple
1 jar (6½ ounces) candied cherries (halved)
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
¾ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
4 eggs
¼ cup orange juice

Sift together 1 cup of the flour, baking powder, salt and mace. Mix the remaining ½ cup flour with the raisins, currants, mixed fruits and peels, pineapple, cherries and walnuts; reserve. Cream butter and sugar; beat in eggs thoroughly, one at a time. Add sifted dry ingredients in 4 additions alternately with orange juice, beating well after each addition. Fold in reserved fruit and nut mixture. Turn about ¾ cup batter into each of 8 buttered individual loaf pans (1-cup capacity and 4½ by 2½ by 1½ inches).

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until tops are well browned, cakes shrink from sides of pans and cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—45 to 50 minutes. Place pans on wire rack to cool; turn out of pans.

ADDING SPIRIT: When cakes are cold, we pour ¼ cup cognac into a bottle with a sprinkler top and sprinkle the brandy over the tops and bottoms of the cakes. Then we wrap each cake individually in transparent plastic wrapping and put them all in a tightly covered box and store them in the refrigerator

Cookbooks, Candy Now Being Sold By Auxiliary

Christmas candy and cookbooks are being sold by the Women's Auxiliary of San Rafael General Hospital to bolster its "good purposes" treasury, according to Mrs. Donald L. Walling, president.

The candy is packed in tins. The cookbooks are remaining copies of "Favorite Fare," a collection of recipes contributed by volunteers and hospital staffers and published last year. Both candy and cookbooks are available at the hospital reception desk and from Auxiliary members.

The volunteers also made a dozen white "poodles" of cut-up plastic bags, with wire hangers as frames, to sell on order. The project was initiated by Mrs. J. A. Wruburton

Miss Foster's home also will be the scene of the Auxiliary's monthly meetings beginning in January.

Shallot Substitute

Shallots are often called for in French recipes; if they are not available, substitute the white part of scallions or mild white onion.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pudding— A School Lunch Favorite

Out of the mouths of babes, with the help of their lunchroom staff and other school personnel, comes a recipe for pumpkin chiffon pudding.

When the children of California's Orangevale School District (Sacramento County) chose some of their favorite school lunch recipes, this delectable dish was a high spot among the desserts.

What other foods do these youngsters especially like?

Salad dressings, yes—four recipes are favorites. Interesting here is that three of the rules contain catchup!

Beef rates high in main dishes. The children like sauteed ground beef in a barbecue sauce, served on split hamburger buns. They like ground beef mixed with cooked vegetables and topped with mashed potatoes for a "pie." Baked lasagne is another choice. So is an interesting version of tamale pie.

Other main-dish favorites are frankfurters baked with rice and cheese custard, and macaroni and cheese.

For dessert, besides the pumpkin chiffon pudding, the boys and girls favor a fruit cup made with bananas, oranges, apple and canned pineapple; apple cake and an apple crisp pudding with an oatmeal topping; and two sorts of peanut butter cookies—one plain, the other chocolate flavored.

Here is the recipe for the pumpkin chiffon pudding, just as the youngsters enjoy it in the school lunchroom. When it was tried at our house, we found it a spicy concoction that takes to a topping of whipped cream. The California school lunch program recipe uses plain graham crackers for the pudding's base. If you wish to enrich this, mix ½ cup graham crackers with two tablespoons melted butter or margarine and press this combination against the bottom and sides of the pudding dish, then turn in the chilled pumpkin-gelatin mixture.

PUMPKIN CHIFFON PUDDING

3 tablespoons cold water
1 tablespoon plain gelatin
1 cup brown sugar
¼ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups canned pumpkin
½ cup milk
3 eggs (separated)
2 tablespoons granulated sugar

Measure cold water into cup and sprinkle in gelatin. Let stand while you cook pumpkin mixture. Mix brown sugar, spices, salt, pumpkin, milk and slightly beaten egg yolks in a saucepan. Cook over low flame, stirring constantly until thickened. Add softened gelatin and stir to dissolve. Cool until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites until they are quite stiff, beat in granulated sugar and fold into the thickened and cooled pumpkin mixture. Pour into nine-inch dish which has been lined with rolled graham cracker crumbs. Chill until firm. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

Brown Chicken

Many good cooks like to use a combination of butter and a bland oil when they brown chicken or meat; the oil helps to slow down the browning of the butter.

It's Plum Pudding Time!

Prepare and steam your Christmas plum pudding early, then store it in the refrigerator until it's time to offer it to family and friends.

SAUCEPAN PLUM PUDDING

½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground allspice
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
½ cup old-fashioned molasses
1 cup canned sweetened applesauce
1 cup seedless raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained)
1 cup diced mixed glazed fruit
1 tablespoon medium-coarse grated orange rind
2 eggs
½ cup ground suet (connective tissues removed before grinding)
¾ cup fine dry breadcrumbs
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts or Brazil nuts

Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, sugar, cinnamon, allspice and cloves. Turn molasses, applesauce, raisins, glazed fruit and orange rind into a saucepan (at least 2 quarts). Bring to a boil, stirring often; remove from heat; cool until lukewarm. Beat in eggs one at a time. Stir in thoroughly the suet, breadcrumbs and nuts. Mix in sifted ingredients. Turn into a greased 2-quart pudding mold with a tight fitting cover. (If mold has no cover, cover with foil tightly). Place on rack in deep kettle; pour in boiling water to half the depth of the mold. Cover kettle; steam 5 hours with water boiling gently, adding more boiling water when necessary to keep near original level. Turn out of mold; cool. Wrap in transparent plastic wrapping, then in foil; store in refrigerator. Before serving, unwrap, place in original mold; reheat by steaming about 1 hour. Makes 12 servings.

Priest Has New Album Of Yule Music

The 2,500 miles from little grass shacks in Hawaii to the green hills of Marin has been bridged by a Marist Father recently assigned to service in San Rafael.

The connecting link is a long-playing phonograph record Rev. John H. McDonald made shortly before ending 12 years in Hawaii—and it's out just in time to be seasonal.

Father McDonald, now teaching young seminarians at St. Peter Chanel Seminary in San Rafael, has brought out an album called "Hawaiian Christmas."

It contains not only familiar carols in English, Irish, Spanish and German but also an original by Father McDonald entitled "Aloha Oe e Malia."

The record, expected to be in phonograph stores in a few days, is one of the harvests of Father McDonald's long period on the island of Kauai.

Though he knew nothing about music when he first went to the islands 12 years ago, he organized a choir at St. Catherine's Church in Kealia, Kauai, and became its director.

Together the priest and the choir learned how to sing the music of the church. Later his St. Catherine's Choir sang for radio and television.

Proceeds from his new record will go to his choir back on the islands and to his Seminary of the Society of Mary in San Rafael.

Car Stops For School Busses Are Clarified

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden warns that motorists must stop upon meeting or overtaking a school bus which displays flashing red lights.

But motorists are not required to halt their vehicles whenever they see a stopped school bus.

Crittenden said there is much public confusion concerning the matter.

He said school buses use flashing red signals when they are receiving or discharging students who must cross the roadway.

Yule Program Set At Reed School

The Christmas program of the Reed School will be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the auditorium of the school.

Directed by Newell McMullen, seventh and eighth grade drama students will present a play entitled "Who's Christmas?" The chorus, made up of pupils from fifth through eighth grades, will participate.

The school's advanced instrumental ensemble will play several Christmas selections prior to the play.

A special program of Christmas music was presented for parents Tuesday, at the school by the combined orchestra and band. Community singing of carols followed the program.

Three Top Dixie School Officials' Contracts Up For Consideration

Whether to offer new contracts to the three top officials of the Dixie School District will be considered by the board of trustees at its meeting at 8 p.m. today at 4775 Redwood Highway.

Those up for consideration for the new terms are Supt. Dennie B. Willis, Asst. Supt. Joseph B. Goff and curriculum consultant Penrod Moss.

The board also will consider employing an additional teacher because of the district's growth, and of a person full-time to serve at two schools, the district office and the curriculum center.

There will be a review of a recommendation to seek funds to build a multi-use room and music room at Vallecito School and action on a recommendation to build a fence at Mary E. Silveira School.

The board will consider approving a bell-and-light warning system for the several schools and a recreation program at Vallecito School to begin after Christmas vacation.

Also on the agenda is appointment of a citizens advisory committee to study district finances—possible precursor of a bond election.

'Have Gun, Will Shoot'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A stocky robber escaped with $1,000 from the Powell Street Bank of America branch yesterday.

He handed teller Margaret Boyle, 21, a paper bag and a note that said, "Have gun, will shoot. Fill it up."

She did. He fled on foot, melting into the throng of Christmas shoppers outside.

Crime Held Clogging Courts In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Crime is clogging the courts of California at a faster pace than the increase in population, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk reported today.

He noted that the caseload of superior court probations went up 39 per cent from Dec. 31, 1956 through 1960. The increase was 38 per cent in the same period for lower courts.

Mosk said the 8.7 per cent increase in probation referrals for 1960 paralleled the state's rise in crime.

During 1960, violations of probation caused the removal of 9,779 defendants from superior court probation, 37 per cent of them for committing new crimes.

Plumas County led in 1960 in the percentage of probations granted, 92. Sutter and Yuba counties were low at 20 per cent. Among the larger counties of over 100,000 papulation, Alameda was highest with 66 per cent, San Joaquin County lowest with 26 per cent.

The report noted that judges appeared to follow favorable recommendations of probation officers more often than they did unfavorable recommendations.

Cornucopias of "Ham What Am" filled with cream cheese and candied fruit, and garnished with bells of gelatin.

Why one of the most expensive hams you can buy is actually the most sensible ham to serve

Strangely, the story begins with what you don't get in the "Ham What Am" by Armour.

One pig in four

Of every four pigs that go to market, we reject three. Only the young, tender one is worthy of becoming your "Ham What Am."

Then, figuring you don't want to pay for bones and skin, we remove them. We remove the shank, too; it's good eating, but not good enough for your "Ham What Am."

Next the fat

Next the fat goes. We wouldn't want you paying for that, so we trim it off. Outside. And inside, too, where the bones used to be. We leave just enough fat to keep a clove from tipping over.

Then we cure your "Ham What Am" and smoke it. We use only hickory wood. Only hickory, we've found, imparts the smoky sweet flavor you like.

Lazy cooked

Finally, we vacuum pack your "Ham What Am" and cook it twice as slowly as you would at home. This soaks the natural juices right through the ham. And keeps it from shrinking—even the thickness of a knife—in your oven.

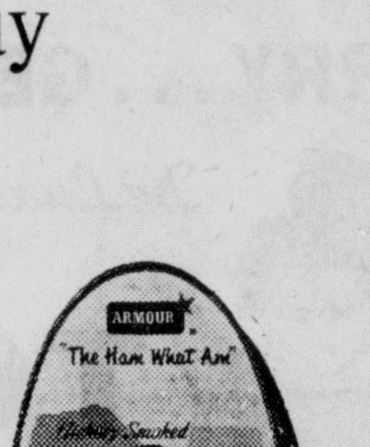
The rest is up to you. You can simply slice the ham and serve it cold. Or heat it. Bake it. Or exercise a little bit of your creative ingenuity by adding some glazes, garnishes, or whatever you like.

By now, you will have discovered why the "Ham What Am," although one of the most expensive hams to buy, is actually the most sensible to serve.

No waste

The reason is, there's not a bit of waste. Every morsel of your "Ham What Am" is good eating—lean, tender, juicy—every single time. So pound for pound, portion for portion of meat, it isn't so expensive after all.

The "Ham What Am" comes in a size to fit your family: 1½, 3, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10 lbs. Buy one for Christmas, serve it, and let your family decide if it wasn't worth every penny you paid for it.



THE "Ham What Am" BY ARMOUR

Kindergarten Spanish Classes Are Planned

Expansion of the foreign language program to offer Spanish in all grades, beginning in kindergarten, was unanimously approved by Reed Union School District trustees at last night's meeting.

Discussion involved methods, optimum age groups and the choice of a second foreign language to be offered several years hence.

Starting next fall, Spanish will be taught in kindergarten and first grade by a specialist to kindergartners and first graders. Classroom teachers will observe, and the following year will take over the instruction. The specialist will then move on to the second grade, the following year the third grade and then the fourth grade, with classroom teachers trained to take over at each level.

In upper grades, specialists will carry the entire program. Next fall Spanish will be part of the seventh grade curriculum. It will be added in subsequent years to the eighth, sixth and fifth grades. By the fall of 1965 the language will be offered at all grade levels.

Supt. Edward C. Pino, Tamalpais High School District officials have agreed that a student completing the Reed Spanish program would be allowed to enter the second year of high school Spanish.

Spanish is now an elective for seventh and eighth grade students in the Reed district. Thirty-one are enrolled.

Pino estimated that by the program's fifth year, it would cost the district $18,350.

It was Pino's recommendation that, later, French be added as a second foreign language. Trustees Richard J. MacLaury and Alyce Farkas urged that no decision be made on this now, although both suggested Russian.

Greatest stumbling block to acceptance of the program was raised by Leo Souza: Where could the time be found in an already full day? Pino replied he was sure this could be worked out.

Larkspur To Discuss Cafe Law Proposal

Larkspur city councilmen will discuss a proposed restaurant inspection ordinance today at 8 p.m. at an adjourned meeting in the city hall

The council is expected to set a public hearing on rezoning from commercial to multiple family residential a strip of land on the west side of Magnolia Avenue, 120 feet deep, which extends from Elite Cleaners 2,600 feet south.

Other items on the agenda include a letter from Councilman Lesly A. Daveler on city streets; discussion of possible ballot measures on the 1962 city election, and setting of public hearing on building, plumbing and electrical codes.

College Begins Sewage Survey

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon State University is beginning a long-range study into the best means of disposing of sewage and industrial waste at sea without danger of coastal contamination.

A U. S. Public Health Service grant of $38,356 has been made to help support the project.

Mill Valley School Bids Are Submitted

Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross submitted a low bid of $206,698 to the Mill Valley School District last night for work on proposed additions to Edna Maguire and Alto schools.

The trustees will meet at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office at which time they are expected to award a contract.

Combined base bids on the Alto and Edna Maguire projects were: E. Bridges, Novato, $218,000; R. S. Miller, San Rafael, $224,155; Olsen Construction, Santa Rosa, $207,118; L. E. Weisenburg Jr., San Rafael, $211,077, and Zoellner, $206,698.

17 New Strep Cases Reported In Marin County

Seventeen new cases of streptococci infection were reported in Marin last week, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, reported today.

The most cases, eight, were in Novato. San Rafael had four, Kentfield three and Mill Valley and Corte Madera one apiece. San Anselmo had six of the eight mumps cases. Three measles cases occurred in Fairfax and in Novato.

In addition there were three cases of infectious hepatitis, one apiece in Mill Valley, Sausalito and other areas. San Rafael had two cases of syphilis and one case of gonorrhea while Marin City had one gonorrhea case.

Novato Board Approves San Jose Annex Plan

The Novato Unified School District board last night approved annexation of the San Jose District to the Novato District.

Trustees instructed Supt. William J. J. Smith to send copies of this action to Mrs. Benjamin D. Edger of the Committee for Annexation.

This committee was formed on Nov. 29, but delayed circulating annexation petitions until it had written assurance from the Novato board that it would accept the San Jose District if that district favored annexation.

This assurance was given unanimously by the board last night.

Mrs. Donald Sparks of 1336 Monte Maria Avenue, committee chairman, said today the committee would now go ahead with the petitions.

Before the trustees voted, they heard a report from Eugene DeBrecht, assistant superintendent in charge of business, that the tax rate in the San Jose District would probably drop 27 cents per $100 assessed valuation if it were annexed to Novato. DeBrecht used the 1961-62 tax rates for comparison.

He also said that the district would get more federal money for San Jose students in a unified district. The gain would be about $125,000 per year, of which approximately $70,000 would be used in equalizing salaries, he said. (The increase would be for high school students from San Jose, now in San Rafael High School District.)

In other action, the board:

1. Approved plans for a six-classroom and multi-purpose room addition to the Rancho School.
2. Set for Jan. 4 at the Marion School and Jan. 9 at the high school public hearings on the Jan. 18 election to join Novato to the Marin Junior College District.
3. Recommended that Leo Mindling be named to the county board of education to replace Theodore V. Cole, resigned, as North Marin member.

Sidewalk Brawl Innocent Pleas; Trial Date Set

Three of Sausalito's literary figures, accused of engaging in a sidewalk brawl outside the No Name Bar last month, will be tried by jury next month for battery and disturbing the peace.

The three are William Harvey Ryan, 33, editor and publisher of Contact magazine; Calvin Brice Kentfield, 37, his co-editor, and Norman Anthony Disher, 35, poet and part-time dishwasher.

They pleaded innocent yesterday before Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court and asked for a jury trial. The judge set the trial for Jan. 16-18.

Sausalito police said they found Ryan and Kentfield wrestling on the sidewalk. When officers tried to stop them, Disher jumped into the fray.

Belvedere Tree

The Belvedere Recreation Commission last night chose an area near the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office as the site for the Twelfth Night Christmas tree burning, according to E. Allen Steinau Jr., chairman.

Sausalito Approves Tower Apartments

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Sausalito will join Strawberry Point among the few sites in Marin to have tower apartments.

The Sausalito city council last night approved a variance from a height limitation to allow construction of one nine-story apartment unit. The 36-unit structure is to be built by Perego, Harney and Teague, Inc., in Buena Vista Heights subdivision between Bayside School and Highway 101.

Approval came after several weeks of discussions and after persistent adverse pleas from Councilman George Keeney, who said, "This will open the door; this is the wedge."

Keeney brought up as a parallel the 3-2 votes made by the pre-Behr county board of supervisors. He hinted that to vote for high-rise buildings, as former Supervisor J. Walter Blair had done at Strawberry, might invite recall movements against councilmen.

(The supervisors, on a motion by Blair, voted 4-1 on Sept. 5 to approve 14-18 story tower apartments on the southeast side of the Strawberry peninsula.)

Last night's vote was 3-1, Keeney voting "no" and councilman Michael Harris abstaining. Harris said he abstained because he did not feel responsible for a motion passed 5-0 by a previous council which in effect approved three nine-story structures.

City Atty. John B. Ehlen said the council is morally and legally bound by the 1960 council to allow the construction of three tower apartments in the location.

None of the councilmen said he favored high-rise apartments.

Harris moved to establish a general policy of opposition to such buildings in Sausalito. He withdrew the motion when it was suggested a committee of Keeney and Councilman Howard Sievers investigate and bring in suggestions at the next meeting.

Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. appointed a three-man architectural committee to study the development and work with the San Francisco Developers. Members are Theodore C. Bernardi and Stephen Allen, both of Sausalito, and Gilbert Murphy, former Sausalito planning commission chairman, who now lives in Fairfax.

Keeney, in arguing against granting the variance, said that if it is granted," someone will be tomorrow asking for the same thing."

(F. Bruce Bernhard will go before the Sausalito Planning Commission tonight to ask for a use permit to construct 464 apartments in the Rodeo Avenue area with a variance to permit more than one building on a lot and a variance from the height limit to construct tower apartments.)

Mrs. George Hoffman, from the audience, said: "Tomorrow night you will have Bernhard, who will say you granted to these people, why not me? This is the number one, the wedge, but let's confine it near the highway."

Jackson Perego said his apartment house, which is to have a swimming pool, will have 54 parking spaces and be built on a 45,000-square-foot lot.

He agreed to these conditions: The building not to exceed elevation of 297 feet above mean sea level; that it be landscaped according to approved plan; that Bayside Park area be restored in accordance with an agreement with the Sausalito School District; that the county swimming pool ordinance be complied with, and that attempts be made to group parking spaces and locate as many of them as possible under the structure.

Sausalito Orders Bus Concession Contract

The Sausalito City Council last night directed City Manager Charles A. Brown to draw up specifications for the bus concession contract and appointed Councilmen Howard Sievers and Marjorie Brady to advise him on policy decisions.

The depot is being built on Bridgeway between Bay and Anchor streets and is expected to be ready Jan. 1.

Some citizens asked that the present bus shelter at the Greyhound depot be moved to another location, but the council decided to keep it at Bridgeway and Spring street.

The council also:

1. Agreed to support "wholeheartedly" the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank in San Rafael and heard from Brown that seven city employees will contribute blood Friday for a city employees' account.

2. Reappointed Frank Williams to the Marin Mosquito Abatement District board.

3. Heard from Brown that at the first of the year all residents will get notices by mail advising them of the day and hour of garbage collections.

4. Authorized payment of $2,130 to City Atty. John B. Ehlen for his work in litigation carried on in the district court of appeals for a petition for referendum on council action regarding the sandspit.

The council decided it would not meet again until Jan. 2.

Truck Driver Commended

A telephone company splicer, who drove his truck into a bridge in preference to hitting a woman driver's vehicle head-on, yesterday received praise in a California Highway Patrol report for quick thinking.

William Christian Mahrt of Petaluma was driving his truck west on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard just east of the Olema Creek bridge when he saw a passenger car approaching on the wrong side of the road.

He swerved toward the ditch, struck the end of the bridge, and was later treated in Point Reyes Station for cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Lucile Trayer of Madrone Avenue, Inverness, driver of the other vehicle, told Patrolman A. S. Olson that she had heard her little boy fall from the back seat of her car and turned around to see what had happened.

Fairfax Child, 8, Critical; Struck By Teacher's Auto

An 8-year-old child was in critical condition today after being struck by the car of an Oak Manor School teacher in Fairfax yesterday.

The teacher, Cornelia Seeds Wyatt, 355 Vista Grande, Greenbrae, had just left the school at 3:40 p.m. and was traveling on Oak Manor Drive when Danny M. Shirley, son of John W. Shirley of 131 Oak Manor Drive, ran in front of her automobile and was hit.

Danny was taken to Marin General Hospital with head injuries by United Ambulance. He underwent surgery today and his condition was termed critical.

CHRISTMAS PAINTINGS DO DOUBLE DUTY

Sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils in Lagunitas School did a schoolroom Christmas decoration job that served a double purpose. Their classroom in the school's new addition got too much afternoon sun. So they painted Christmas scenes on windows. The result: a very "Christmasy" atmosphere, and no more glare. Viewing youngsters at work on the paintings are (backs to camera) Elizabeth Edmonsen, Patty Van Midde and Lora Lusher. More-or-less bossing the job is Wolfram Toews, the school's art director. (Independent-Journal photo)

Bay Audubon Societies Are Merging

William S. Picher of Belvedere, president of Marin Audubon Society, and Aileen Pierson, president of the Golden Gate Audubon Society, announced yesterday their societies will become "partners" in the Canyon Ranch Project at Bolinas.

Picher said the Golden Gate Audubon Society, at its board meeting Monday night, voted to become a "full partner" with the Marin organization. "This," Picher said, "will mean a great deal since it will bring the whole Bay Area into the picture." The Golden Gate organization includes members in San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley.

The Marin Audubon Society took its second option in November to purchase 375 acres of the Canyon Ranch at Bolinas for establishment of a wild life sanctuary and a recreation and education center.

Neurotic Chickens Studied At College

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Social tensions are just as important in a chicken flock as they are in a community, says Joe Wakefield, Texas A&M College poultry specialist.

Wakefield said poultrymen must observe the social order to keep down fighting that may lead to cannibalism that can cost as much as a major disease outbreak.

Mill Valley Schools Trying New Methods

More time is now being made available for advanced instruction in literature, mathematics and science, Mill Valley School District trustees were told Monday night, due to new methods of teaching.

This is why elementary schools are adopting new learning materials, Asst. Supt. Logan T. Miles said. He named specifically, the reading laboratories of Science Research Associates, the Readers' Digest skill builders, and Scott-Foresman arithmetic texts as systems providing more efficient instruction in fundamentals.

Dominic Bobbio, Edna Maguire School principal, told trustees of methods of grouping students in upper grades. He said all children are assigned to classes on the basis of their ability in mathematics, science and English. Each group covers the same basic material but the advanced and remedial groups use special textbooks. Pupils are moved from group to group whenever it seems advisable, Bobbio added.

Both educators agreed that more guidance and counseling in lower grades would help reduce the number of pupils who are not interested in academic work in upper grades.

Trustees decided to hold an adjourned meeting at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow to consider bids for construction of classrooms at Edna Maguire, Alto and Marin Terrace schools.

They granted maternity leave to Mrs. Donald Shennum and hired Mrs. Richard Nash to replace her as first grade teacher at Old Mill School.

Panel To Give Progress Report On Civic Center

Progress report on the new Marin Civic Center stage one will be the topic of the "Marin Sounding Board" from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow over radio KTIM.

Panelists will be Supervisor Walter R. Castro; Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham; Robert Rothschild, head of Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick, Inc., the contractors, and Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell.

Questions phoned by listeners will be directed to the speakers by moderator Kitty Oppenheimer. The program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday from a recording.

State Hospital Tries Co-Ed Plan

STOCKTON (AP) — Stockton State Hospital is experimenting with a new co-educational program for acute geriatric patients receiving intensive treatment.

The hospital reports amazing personality changes in some of its patients.

Elderly ladies are taking more interest in their appearance, and are "mothering" some of the more elderly men. The men also are dressing up their appearance and manners the hospital said.

Check Passers Get Jail Terms

One of two San Rafael men, charged with passing about $1,000 in bad checks, must serve a state prison sentence, Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court has ruled.

Charles Ashton McDonald, 45, a San Rafael salesman, drew the prison term, which had been hanging over his head for a previous auto theft conviction.

The other man, Donald William Bute, 27, an unemployed laborer, got a year in county jail, with all but 90 days suspended on condition he make restitution for the bad checks and remain on three years' probation.

San Rafael police said Bute admitted cashing the bad checks by using the identification papers of a San Rafael electrical contractor. Bute implicated McDonald in the check cashing spree.

Two Writers, Minister Defend Miller Book At Trial

"Tropic of Cancer" became "Innocents Abroad" yesterday as the defense took the offensive in the Marin obscenity trial.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety — and the jury of eight women and four men — were told by defense "experts" that (1) a bidet is not a douche, (2) the gamy Henry Miller novel is not necessarily autobiographical, and (3) any "average" person should know what the book is about, since the author states his purpose several times.

Defense attorney's Charles W. Pierce and Lawrence Goldberg did not let the packed courtroom down on their implied promise that literary big guns would testify as to the novel's importance in American literature.

The second witness to take the stand for the defense was Mark Schorer, chairman of the University of California English department, author of three novels and a critical study of William Blake, biographer of Sinclair Lewis, author of countless short stories and lecturer both here and abroad.

He followed to the stand Dr. Arnold Come, minister and professor of systematic theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. The third witness before court adjourned for the day at 4:40 p.m. was Herbert Gold, San Francisco author of six novels, graduate of Columbia University and University of Paris.

It was Dr. Come who differed with Garety's definition of a bidet. Dr. Come's testimony which was in direct contradiction to that of two ministers called by the prosecution before the case passed into the hands of the defense yesterday morning.

Both Dr. Harold K. Graves, president of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary at Strawberry, and Rev. Harold Johnson, pastor of Peace Lutheran Church in Mill Valley, had branded the novel obscene and dirty when testifying for the prosecution.

The "Garety shock treatment" — his reading aloud of lurid passages from the gamy book — fell like a dud bomb in wet sand at the feet of Schorer.

"I am sorry," Schorer apologized after the fourth such reading by the district attorney in attempt to wring the admission from him that the book is obscene. "My answer will continue to be 'No' so long as you take passages out of context.

Schorer at one point referred to "beautiful" examples of writing.

"Don't you think these 'beautiful' passages are submerged?" Garety asked.

"Personally, I remember a passage which describes a painting of Matisse much more than any other," Schorer said.

Schorer said the most important thing a writer in the 20th century can do is to do what Miller did in "Tropic"—that is, "assert his individuality against all pressures of an increasingly machine-like conformist society.

"Don't you think that to the average person the novel has a prurient interest?" Garety asked.

"I do not," Schorer said. "I think the novel has considerable social importance. I don't think there is a prurient interest which must be redeemed."

Miller holds out hope for man "only by implication," Schorer explained to Garety. "The hope of man is his reassertion of the sanctity of the individual human rather than that of the social being."

"You mean Miller talks of the 'sanctity' of man?" Garety asked in amazement.

"That is the theme of the book," Schorer said. "I think the individual is sacred."

It was Dr. Come who explained the purpose of a bidet in answer to Garety's question as to whether it was primarily a douche bowl.

"Not entirely," Dr. Come said. "I have used them in Paris. They are a substitute for a shower and a bath. That's the way most people in Europe use them. Do you wish me to describe a bidet further?"

Garety declined to hear further explanation, but returned to the subject later, citing a passage in which a Hindu had used a bidet in a house of prostitution as a toilet.

"Do you think —— floating in a bidet has social importance?" Garety asked.

"The Hindu was supposed to be a religious man," Dr. Come said. "This was Miller's hyperbolic way of criticizing religion as he sees it. Whether you agree or not, Miller's purpose is serious."

"Don't you think he shows contempt for America?" Garety asked, pointing to the courtroom flag.

"No contempt," Dr. Come said. "He uses radical statements to criticize certain dimensions of American life as he sees it."

"Who forced Miller to live this way?" Garety asked.

"Has it been established that this is an autobiographical novel?" Dr. Come asked with some surprise.

"It is written in the first person," Garety insisted.

"Many novels are written in the first person that are not autobiographical," Dr. Come said.

Gold, the last witness of the day, reasserted the defense contention that the book is not obscene.

"Miller follows the path of Mark Twain," Gold said. "In fact, 'Huckleberry Finn' was considered an outrage to public morals when it was first published."

"Doesn't Miller describe working for a living as a hopeless, worthless thing?" Garety asked.

"Yes," Gold agreed. "He also states that writing is a worthless occupation — and then devotes his life to it."

Two Birth Control Books Not Banned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Post Office Department has ruled that two books on birth control will not be banned from the U.S. mail as pornography if they are sent to bookstores, doctors and other professional people.

Both books were withheld from the mail by the Chicago Post Office under a 74-year-old federal statute forbidding the mailing of "obscene, lewd, lascivious or filthy" material and any article of information aimed at "preventing conception."

The two books were "the complete book of birth control, published by Ballentine Books, Inc., and "Modern Birth Control," published by Paperback Library, Inc. Both were written by doctors.

United Press International learned today that Louis J. Doyle, post office department general counsel, had written the two publishers that mailing of their books would be permitted when they are addressed to distributors or retail outlets and "individuals with a legitimate professional interest in the subject."

Doyle defined these professionals as physicians, clergymen, psychologists, social workers, and health agencies.

The conditional mailing permits were in both cases suggested by attorneys for the publishers.

Social Workers Needed In State

BERKELEY (AP)—A leading educator has called for greatly expanded educational planning to meet demands for additional and more highly skilled social workers in California.

Dr. Milton Chernin, Social Welfare Dean of the University of California, Berkeley, said that three things must be done to meet the challenge. These are:

Tripling the number of students who receive Master of Social Welfare degrees; increasing the number of undergraduate social welfare majors; and reanalysis of the jobs themselves, to see if varying educational patterns could be developed for different kinds of positions.

Marin Scouts To Speak For Building Plans

Marin Boy Scouts will be rewarded for their ability at public speaking in favor of the Scout building program, it was announced today.

William Poulopoulos, regional president of Toastmasters International, will direct the "intensive training program," for the young speechmakers, the Scout's Marin County Council said.

As inducements the more eloquent Scouts will receive merit badges in a program entitled "Operation Patrick Henry."

The boys will be trained to give reasons why Tamarancho near Fairfax and Marin-Sierra north of Emigrant Gap should be developed into completely operational Scout camps.

Plea Of Self Defense

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Two hunters were arrested during Pennsylvania's small game season for shooting a cow, the state game commission reported.

Royal Pecan Ring

⅓ cup pecan halves	2 Tablespoons dark corn syrup
¼ cup melted butter or margarine	2 cups biscuit mix
½ cup brown sugar	¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon	⅔ cup PET Evaporated Milk

Arrange pecans in bottom of well-greased ring mold holding about 5 cups or 8-in. round cake pan. Mix butter, brown sugar, cinnamon and corn syrup and pour over pecans. In a 1½-qt. bowl, mix rest of ingredients just until biscuit mix is wet. With 2 tablespoons, drop mounds of dough to cover brown sugar mixture in pan. Bake near center of 425 oven (very hot) about 15 min., or until toothpick comes out clean when inserted into ring. Cool in pan for 5 min. Turn upside down on plate, leaving pan over pecan ring, and cool 5 min. more. Lift pan off. Serve warm.

Citizenship Road Leads To Marin

For Kana Misac Sheldon and Mitsuko Balke, the road started in Japan.

For little Edward D. Jordan and for Ingrid Weiss, it began in Germany. For Lucjan and Maria Krasowski, it started in Poland; for Solveig Peterson, in Sweden; for Virginia Kemp, in India; for Christine U. Levine, in Switzerland; for Anne B. Henningsen, in Argentina; for Ole Brix, in Denmark; for Elizabeth D. W. Paskin, in England.

But all their roads led to Marin. And all led, last month, to U. S. District Court in San Francisco, where they were among 17 Marinites receiving United States citizenship.

Mrs. Kana Misac Sheldon is the wife of Dr. Gerald P. Sheldon of 533 Virginia Drive, Tiburon, an internist with his office in San Francisco. When they met in Japan, Sheldon was a Navy doctor serving there. They were married in Yokohama in 1956 and came to the United States—and Marin—shortly afterward.

Immensely proud of her new citizenship, Kana Sheldon nevertheless has not forgotten her native Japan, where her mother, brother and sister still live in Kyoto. She has an unusual collection of Japanese dolls displayed in her Little Reed Heights home, and one room of the home is decorated and furnished in Japanese style. There Mrs. Sheldon serves sukiyaki dinners to her host of Tiburon friends.

Mrs. Mitsuko Balke likewise met her husband, Raymond, while he was in U. S. military service in Japan. He is still in the Army, now serving at the Mill Valley Radar Station atop Mount Tamalpais as a sergeant first cless. They live at 75 Knight Drive in San Rafael's Glenwood.

Mrs. Balke accompanied her husband to the United States shortly after their marriage in April, 1958, and achieved citizenship in almost the minimum time of three years.

Citizenship at 7 years

NEW CITIZENSHIP, OLD TIES—Proud to be a new citizen of the United States is Mrs. Kana Misac Sheldon. She is proud, also of the Japanese decor of the room in her Tiburon home where this photo was taken, and of her collection of Japanese dolls. The doll she is holding is reportedly 200 years old, and represents the wife of a Samuri warrior. (Independent-Journal photo)

Mitsuko Balke said she is very proud and happy to be a citizen of the United States—but like Kana Sheldon, she does not forget Japan. "I get homesick, but that's beside the point," she said.

One of Mrs. Balke's three sisters is also an American citizen, married to an American soldier, but is now living in Panama. Two sisters and a brother are still in Japan, where Mrs. Balke lived in Saitama and was working at Johnson Air Force when she met her husband-to-be.

Among the proudest of the new citizens is Edward D. Jordan of 756 Diablo Avenue, Novato. Edward is just 7.

He was adopted four years ago last September in Germany by M/Sgt. and Mrs. John Jordan. By Thanksgiving of that year, he could speak excellent English, his foster mother says proudly.

Sergeant Jordan was stationed in France when he and his wife adopted Edward. From there they moved to Minneapolis. They have been in Novato since Feb. 1, with Jordan serving at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Edward is in the second grade at Lu Sutton School.

Mrs. Ingrid Weiss met her husband, Leonard A. Weiss, in Hamburg, Germany, in 1955, when he was investigating the backgrounds of refugees for the U. S. State Department. He must have liked her background, for they were married in Hamburg in October of that year and came to the United States a few months later.

They live at 403 Scenic Road, Fairfax. Weiss teaches English at College of Marin.

The road to their promised land was especially hard for Mr. and Mrs. Lucjan Krasowski of 183 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo.

Krasowski was captured by the Russians in Poland early in World War II and sent to Germany in a prisoner exchange. His future wife was herded by the Gestapo from Poland to Germany after she had been separated from her family. They met in 1946, after both were released from Nazi prison camps.

Mrs. Krasowski made her way to England in 1946. Her husband followed two years later. In 1956, they came to the United States, and they became citizens together last month. Krasowski is employed by Marin Municipal Water District.

Mrs. Solveig Peterson found her romance after coming to the United States from her native Sweden.

She met Edwin Peterson Jr.—who is of Swedish descent—while working as a laboratory technician at Stanford University Hospital in San Francisco after coming to the U. S. in 1957. They married six months later and have a 2-year-old son, Christy. Their home is at 1529 Buchanan Street, Novato.

Mrs. Virginia M. Kemp of 810 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, has been in the U.S. for 30 years but just received her citizenship.

She was born in England but was taken to India as a child and grew up there, later returning to England to attend St. George College.

Her husband, Emile L. Kemp, is an electronics technician in federal employ. She has a son from a previous marriage, Thomas Maxwell, who lives in San Bruno, and a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Condon, who lives in Los Altos.

Mrs. Christine U. Levine of 908 California Avenue, Mill Valley, was a schoolteacher in Switzerland before coming to the United States four years ago. She met her husband, Robert L. Levine, an advertising copywriter for Young and Rubicam in San Francisco, while both were living in New York. They met through a ski club.

"The thing I like best about being a citizen is that I can vote now," said Mrs. Levine. "If a woman works and pays taxes, she should have the right to vote." In Switzerland, women do not have the ballot.

Mrs. Levine works as a secretary at Matson Navigation Co. in San Francisco.

Mrs. Anne B. Henningsen of 17 El Monte Lane, Sausalito, gave up duel citizenship when she became a U.S. citizen.

She was born in Paraguay of Danish parents, and thereby held citizenship in both Paraguay and Denmark—although she grew up in Argentina.

Her husband, Sven, is an engineer in San Francisco. They have a son, Paul, 2. They have lived in the Bay Area five years, and in Sausalito three years.

Ole Brix landed in New York in 1955 as an emigrant from his native Denmark. Two months later, he was drafted into the U. S. Army, and served in Tokyo, Japan for 18 months of his army "hitch."

He and his wife, whom he met in New York shortly after landing from Denmark, were married after he completed army service late in 1958. They reside at 495 Pinewood Drive, Marinwood, with their small son and daughter. Brix is pharmaceutical representative in the East Bay for Werner-Chilcott Laboratories.

"Now that I have a wife and two children I feel more responsibility. As a citizen I am able to vote and perhaps have more to say about what kind of world this will be when my children grow up," said Brix.

Elizabeth D. W. Paskin was born and reared in England, and resided in British Columbia before moving to the U.S. Her parents still live in Victoria, B. C. Miss Paskin, whose home is at 431 Litho Street, Sausalito, works in the records section of the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank in San Francisco.

Two former Swiss citizens, Peter and Sonja Vogel, were residing at 25 Millwood Street, Mill Valley, when they became U.S. citizens last month. But immediately afterward, Vogel's employer, Dymo Industries, Inc., of Berkeley, transferred him—to Lausanne, Switzerland.

Two others who received U. S. citizenship as Marin residents last month were Richard H. Niedrich, 8, and his brother, William V. Niedrich Jr., 5, adopted from Germany by the senior Niedrich of 25 Crescent Lane, Novato. The family, however, moved to Phoenix, Ariz., a few days ago.

Richard Used To Be Nice Guy

LONDON (AP)—Richard Gilbert, 45, was mild mannered and affable before a car knocked him from his motorcycle and he suffered brain injuries.

Afterward, his attorney said in court, Gilbert became touchy, difficult and offensive, with a streak of nastiness he had not had before.

Marin Bridge Players To Participate In Annual Charity Party

Marin County bridge players will lend a hand to the Marin Humane Society and the Salvation Army Sunday by playing a few hands of bridge at the annual Charity Bridge Party.

The charity event is set for 1:15 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center, 1618 Mission Avenue, San Rafael. The Marin Unit of the American Contract Bridge League, headed by President Lura Crossley, will donate all proceeds to the Humane Society and the Salvation Army.

"Everyone, including beginners in duplicate bridge, are welcome to play," Mrs. Crossley announced. "If enough beginners show up, we might even set up a separate junior tournament."

In addition to the charity donation, the Marin bridge group will give an additional $25 from its treasury to help provide Christmas dinners for the less fortunate. Ted Hughes of Novato helps collect and distribute Christmas dinners each year for the unfortunate.

Following the afternoon charity bridge party, the December monthly unit master-point bridge tournament will be held the same day, beginning at 7 p.m. Players may participate in one or both of the events. Those who play in both will be served a free buffet dinner at the Jewish Center, Mrs. Crossley announced.

San Rafael CYO Holds Investiture

San Rafael's CYO Girls' Clubs welcomed new members at Investiture ceremonies recently in the Mission chapel in San Rafael.

New members welcomed into the organization were Jean Futscher, Helen La Vasseur, Maureen McDuffy, Stephanie Cincotta, Teresa LaMantia, Mary McLaughlin, Deborah Thornton, Bonnie Testa, Pamela Martinovich, Mary Andrews, Ann Brolan, Laura Brunn, Ellen Carrino, Nicoli Flynn, Louise Hofmeister, Patti Kinsella, Victoria LaMantia, Claire Lennon, Lynn Manzone, Barbara Ryan, Cynthia Schall, Barbara Waltermire and Ann Lichtenwalner.

Hostesses for the tea which followed the ceremony were CYO group leaders, the Mesdames Robert Brolan, James Kean, Daniel Lennon, Robert Andrews and John Martinovich.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Dr., Mrs. John Carr To Host Large Holiday Party At Home

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

When Dr. and Mrs. John Howard Carr entertain at their holiday party Dec. 23 at their San Rafael home there'll be plenty of music, dancing and singing. They have the musical instruments, an accordion, concertino, piano, bongo drums and even "our old gut bucket", Loretta Carr told me. She hopes there'll be a combo and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Schell will be among the guests there is a good possibility that Doctor Schell, who plays the piano and sings, will add to the entertainment.

The impromptu musicale will follow a cocktail party and buffet dinner for which the guests will be seated at small tables, which will be covered with candy striped cloths.

Doctor Carr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Carr, are coming from their home in Newport Beach for the party. Also present will be Doctor Carr's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. David Emmes of San Francisco, Loretta's mother, Mrs. Philip Beckman of Kentfield, her sister, Miss Bethany Beckman of Greenbrae, Mrs. Betty Weyant Ferguson who recently moved from Piedmont to San Rafael, Doctors and Mesdames Craig Hope, Herbert Lee, William Manson, Calvin Clumhof, Robert Oslar, John Degenhardt, Alex Beaton, M. Alden Van Pelt, Doctors Rainer Arnhold, Jerome Littell, Thomas Brandes, Messrs. and Mesdames Gordon Dohemann, Francis Darman, Charles Spongberg, Sidney Dorn and Raymond Denegri.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in two years, two Marin County girls will celebrate Christmas at home. They are Sandra Shortridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Shortridge of San Rafael, and Christine Hardy whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hardy of Strawberry. The two girls, with Diane Farradee of Berkeley, toured Europe for three months in their Renault. They drove through England, Scotland, Germany, France and Spain. Sandra is flying the polar route from Copenhagen and will be home tomorrow morning. Christine is sailing from Le Havre on the Mauretania and will arrive Dec. 21. Christine and Sandra were in New York for two years before going to Europe. Sandra, a graduate of San Rafael High School and Mount Zion Hospital School of Nursing, followed her career as a nurse. Christine, a graduate of San Jose State College, was doing social welfare work. Diane Farradee was her classmate at San Jose State.

AT HER HOME in Belvedere, Trudy Hamm, daughter of the James Hamms celebrated her 11th birthday recently at a dessert party. Guests entered the home through a large cardboard cable car. They were Tracy Cameron, Leslie Finke, Mimi LaPlace, Margie MacLaury, Susan Leech, Abbe Leydet, Penny Lowenstein, Cathy Reiger, Allisan Reynolds, Carmen Schleiger, Nancy Shonfeld and Melinda Wallace. Assisting Trudy in entertaining were her mother; also Carol Hamm, Cathy Cross and Nancy Wood.

IN THEIR NEW HOME in Enchanted Knolls are Mr. and Mrs. John W. Shepard and their sons, John and Stephen. Mr. and Mrs. Shepard were honored at a housewarming given recently by the Raymond Rehers of Corte Madera, the James Lieglers of De Mar Estates, the Peter Castelluchis and the Frank Castelluchis of Terra Linda and Mrs. Erna Smith of Mill Valley.

Young John Shepard celebrated his ninth birthday Saturday by entertaining a group of friends for dessert at home before they went to Oakland to be on Mr. Bob's television program. In the group were Kevin Reher, Kevin Smith, Greg Smith, Stephen Castelluchi, Terry Castelluchi, Stephen Wardlaw, Stephen Hammersley, Kevin Larrue, John Perone, Scott Miller, David Limont and John's brother, Stephen.

Scout Council To Be Feted In Boyd Home

Marin Council of Boy Scouts of America has invited Marin community leaders to a formal dinner party at the San Rafael home of Miss Louise A. Boyd on Saturday.

Cocktails will be followed by the dinner and a presentation by Carl G. Brown Jr., Marin Scout Council president, on the building program by the Marin council, including a film program.

Among the guests who are planning to attend are Judge and Mrs. Carlos Freitas, and Messrs. and Mesdames James Adams, A. Crawford Greene, Richard Y. Dakin, Brown, Storss H. Smith and Howard W. Schoof.

Sponge Remedy

School To Hold Party On Friday

The Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery is planning a Christmas party for the children Friday to be held at 11 a m. at the school in Almonte Hall.

Everyone is cooperating to make it a success. Mrs. Jerome Jacobson is helping the children make hand prints in clay for their mothers' Christmas presents, and Mrs. Robert Finnie is in charge of helping the children make decorations for the tree.

FAMILY FARE

Parents Should Learn About Toys

This statement by one of the nation's leading child development authorities is worth pondering by parents at Christmastime.

Buying the right toy can make a big difference, not only in the youngsters' happiness on Christmas morning, but in the whole process of learning and growth that is involved in children's play.

Children need toys for fun. They also need them for investigating, exploring, manipulating, experimenting, discovering and creating. Using toys is a part of growing and wise parents will give the problem of "the right toy" more time than is involved in one or two hurried trips to the store.

For all toys, several considerations are basic. A toy should be safe and it should be durable. Toys made of steel, for instance, are usually very durable. On the question of safety the Toy Guidance Council urges parents to note whether edges of toys have been turned under or filed smooth and whether wooden toys are made of hard wood that will not splinter.

Paint on toys, especially those for very young children who naturally put everything in their mouth, should be nontoxic. Major American manufacturers make a standard practice of using nontoxic paint.

Durability is important because, to a child who becomes deeply attached to a toy, its loss through breakdown is no small tragedy.

Parents know that different types of toys are needed at different ages, but mistakes along these lines are nevertheless a common Christmas occurrence. One expert has roughly defined the various toy-ages as follows: infancy to age 2, "hand-to-mouth age;" 2 to 3, exploring age; 3 to 4, "let's pretend age;" 4 to 6 creative urge grows; 6 to 8, dexterity moves forward rapidly; 8 and up, special skills develop.

At each age toys perform not one function but many. There is active physical play, constructive play, dramatic play, play involving skills and information, playing alone and social play. Many parents unwittingly buy toys that fall largely into one or two of the categories and neglect the others.

In the 4 to 8 age group children become more aggressive and may tend to be rough with toys. Toys intended for active play for these children should be made of particularly durable material.

Some toys require the active participation of youngsters to make and build things, others simply require him to push a button. Here again an imaginative approach by parents is required to avoid an overbalance of toys which give the youngster little or nothing to do.

Brightly colored, lightweight toys predominate during infancy. Rattles, chimes and large picture books are time-tested favorites. Toddlers from two to four like toys involving active physical play but a minimum of coordination. From four to six active physical play is still very important but the imagination has also grown and the youngster is a lot better at "making things." From six to eight the abilities for social play grow tremendously, as do the dramatic interests, and a whole range of games are available which faster this growing ability. From eight to ten hobbies emerge; many are of temporary interest, but in most cases are highly educational and worthy of being fostered.

40 Girl Scouts Wear Lapel Pins Of Appreciation

Some 40 Girl Scouts from the fourth through the eighth grades in the Santa Venetia area are wearing lapel pins depicting the heart symbol of the Marin County Heart Assn. in appreciation for their community service work.

Director Of Children's Villages 'Father' To 2,000 Youngsters

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hermann Gmeiner has no children of his own. But thanks to his big heart and the generosity of millions over the world, he plays a father role to some 2,000 youngsters.

Gmeiner, an Austrian, is the founder and director of the SOS children's villages, a family-type education program where the parentless child finds a permanent home, with "mother", "brothers" and "sisters." Each village consists of charming little one-family houses. Gmeiner, 42, a bachelor and veteran of World War II, explained the privately-supported program during his first visit to the United States where he hopes to set up a "model" village. Just where, he wasn't sure.

"I would like eventually to see villages established in every country of the world," he said. "The whole idea is to provide the child as nearly a normal family environment as is possible. That is why there never are more than eight or nine children in each home."

Many of the children otherwise "would almost by fate end up as delinquents," without someone's assistance Gmeiner said. One child now with the village had been in 20 foster homes by the time he was 10; another, at the age of three had been shuttled from foster home to foster home 11 times.

Imst is the pilot village, established in 1949, and now has 18 houses. Nine other villages are scattered through Austria, and still others have been built or are under construction in Italy, France and West Germany.

All told, 1,000 children are cared for in Austria; another 1,000 in the other countries.

Gmeiner said additional villages were planned for Belgium, Denmark, England, West Germany, the Netherlands, Japan, Sweden and West Berlin.

FROM 'MEMBERS'

The villages are supported in two ways—from "members", mostly Austrian, who donate what they can, sometimes only a shilling (four cents in U.S. money) per month, and from "sponsors" who pledge a definite $8 per month.

Gmeiner said members and sponsors number two million—many of them in the United States "and if I could go home with 200 more, I would call this trip most rewarding." U.S. sponsors include school children, women's clubs and such service groups as the rotary.

Most of the children are orphaned. Some have one parent dead, and the other financially unable to provide for the child. Others are the victim of desertion. And still others are refugee children. The villages' population swelled after the Hungarian revolution of 1956, and now, Gmeiner said, refugees are coming in from Tibet which is under Red China control.

Children come to the villages on two conditions—that their circumstances are "tragic" as Gmeiner put it, and that they are physically and mentally capable of a program of study, play and shores. The villages are non-sectarian and integrated—"there are 11 nationalities represented in Austria alone," he said.

Gmeiner's project patterns the daily life of each child as nearly as possible to what he would live in a true family. The "mother" is selected for her compassion for and understanding of children, as well as her ability to budget the monthly financial allottment.

When possible, members of a family are kept together. One home in eastern Austria has four sisters and five brothers, sent by a local priest who found them begging in the streets. Both parents are dead.

Gmeiner became interested in child welfare after World War II when he was studying medicine at the University of Innsbruck. Visits to pediatrics resulted in his idea for the villages, he said. The first village was built from contributions of friends.

Gmeiner never finished his study of medicine. His reward for his work? "well, certainly not financial riches," he said. "But I am happy that I have been able to help pioneer a trend in the care of dependent children."

Christmas Increases Misery For Reform School Youngsters

Are you enjoying the Christmas season? I am but for one thing. I can't forget the forlorn kids who are locked up in reform schools during the holidays. Christmas isn't Christmas for them. It only increases their misery.

The authorities in some states let many reform school kids out for Christmas. They parole them temporarily. The lucky ones go home a day or two before Christmas. They return shortly afterward. I've checked on the results of Christmas parolees in California. They're all to the good. I wish every state would do the same.

The people who run reform schools try to make Christmas pleasant. They get trees, and have them decorated. They play carols on phonographs. They smile and say "Merry Christmas" to their charges. But it is a futile effort. The kids just can't accept it, and I don't blame them.

A great many reform school youngsters will not hear from their parents. There'll be no Christmas for them. Not even cards. Their mothers and fathers are too tied up with their own problems to remember them. These are the youngsters I worry about most. Why should they try to do better if their own parents forget them at Christmas?

Do you know any kids in reform schools? Or do your children? If so, send a Christmas card or a present. Show them you care. They may not write to thank you for it. But they'll respond inwardly, I promise.

Will you look at your own family this evening? You are together. You are happy. You love each other. Look at your dear ones, and breathe a prayer of gratitude. Then pray for the kids who are locked up this December day.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "The governor said our children are softer and weaker than children were a generation ago. Can he be right?"

H. O.

(A) Yes, he is right. Our children get too little exercise. In every comparison I've seen today's children appear to be physically weaker and softer than preceding generations.

SOCIETY TO HOLD BENEFIT

A silent auction and luncheon benefit will be held on Tuesday by the Humane Society Auxiliary at The Dock in Tiburon.

The amount realized from the auction will be added to the yearly sum the auxiliary donates to the Marin County Humane Society from proceeds derived from its Thrift Shop in San Anselmo which is staffed by auxiliary members.

Mrs. George Rivers is chairman of the fund-raising Christmas party and auxiliary president, Mrs. Carl Riznik invites active and associate auxiliary members and their guests to attend the luncheon.

Golden Star Has Election

Mrs. Kenneth Irwin has been elected noble grand of Golden Star Rebekah Lodge 112, IOOF, for the coming year.

Other officers who will serve with her are Mesdames Mary Bruni, vice grand; Ralph Stephenson, recording secretary; Arthur Blake, financial secretary; James W. Rowe, treasurer; and Mesdames Frank Kinsel, John McPhail and R. F. Hook, trustees.

Mrs. Clifford Winegarden, retiring noble grand, presided during the meeting and initiation. Those initiated were Mesdames Melvin Moellinger, H. F. Hepelstein, G. A. Anderson, Mae Green and Thelma Lewellen.

Piano Students Honor Mothers At Yule Program

Delta Zeta Alumnae Plan Holiday Tea

Marin County Delta Zeta Alumnae will honor collegiate members, pledges and their mothers at a Christmas tea to be given from 2 to 4 p.m. on Dec. 19, at the home of Mrs. Gordon L. Johnson, 139 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax.

Mrs. William Blair will be the co-hostess.

Pouring will be this year's officers of the Marin alumnae chapter, Mesdames Thomas Coates, president; John Cavanah, vice president; Paul Driscoll, secretary; and Robert Munter, treasurer.

Alumnae interested in attending are to call Mrs. Charles Pierce, 9 Lansdale, San Anselmo.

Luncheon Given

Mrs. Henry S. Foster entertained 26 members of the San Francisco Tea Club at a luncheon and musical program held in her home in Mill Valley Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. William Howell of San Francisco was co-hostess.

Changes Small In Nutritional Level

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nutritive content of food consumption in the United States in 1961 is about the same as in 1960, except for a small decrease in ascorbic acid, the Agriculture Department reported.

No significant change in the per capita nutritional level was forecast for 1962.

The department said smaller supplies of fresh and canned citrus fruits with no compensating increase in frozen forms of these products account for the drop in ascorbic acid between 1960 and 1961. The agency said such changes in the consumption of citrus products are quickly reflected in the total available supply of this nutrient. In 1961, citrus fruit and tomatoes furnished about one-third of the total ascorbic acid.

Compared to 1947-49, the 1961 food supply provides considerably less vitamin A and ascorbic acid, the department said. Amounts of thiamine also are somewhat lower.

The substantial decline in vitamin A since 1947-49 is due to the decrease in consumption of leafy, green and yellow vegetables and sweet potatoes. These foods account for a little more than one-third of the total vitamin A value of the food supply and, with potatoes about two-fifths of the ascorbic acid.

Reduced consumption of grain products is responsible for lower supplies of thiamine. Flour and cereal products with their accompanying enrichment ingredients remain the largest contributor of thiamine, providing almost one-third of the total supply.

As a source of thiamine, the meat- poultry, and fish group stands second to grains, providing about one-fourth of the total. Meat, poultry, and fish consumption has increased markedly since the early 1950s, but pork has not shared this increase.

Consumption of beef and poultry has increased substantially. Of the three foods — pork, beef, and poultry—pork is the richest source of thiamine. This explains in part when the amount of thiamine furnished per capita per day by the meat, poultry, and fish group has remained the same in 1961 as in 1947-49.

The meat, poultry, and fish group accounts for much of the increase in protein, fat, and niacin since 1947-49. This group accounts for about one-third of the total protein, one-fourth of the total fat, and a half of the total niacin in the food-supply.

The department said that despite some downward trends, there is an abundant and varied food supply of sufficient to meet the nutritional needs of the population.

'Chocolate Party' Saturday Will Honor Pinson Students

The traditional "Chocolate Party" of the Maybelle Pinson School of Ballet of Fairfax will be given for her pupils who will be attending the San Francisco Ballet's performance of "Beauty and the Beast" at the Opera House on Saturday.

Y-Wives To Hold Luncheon, Party

The Y-Wives of Novato are planning a potluck luncheon and exchange of gifts at a Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. Don Eberly in Novato tomorrow at 11:45 a.m.

Members of the club decorated and filled packages with homemade cookies at their previous meeting, which were distributed by the Red Cross to patients at state homes in this area.

Another project recently completed by the club was stuffed toys. The toys were given to the crippled children at the Recreation Center for the Handicap, Inc. in San Francisco and to local hospitals.

Single Young Adult Group Organized

A theater party, progressive dinner party, an evening of operatic music and a discussion topic are several of the programs being planned by the newly-formed Single Young Adult group of the San Rafael Presbyterian Church, announced Mrs. Rowena Dunn, program director.

Any single person over 21 is eligible to participate, regardless of church affiliation. Those who are interested in the group are invited to attend the meetings or they may call the church office.

Meetings are held in the Knox room, church annex, on Sundays at 7:30 p.m.

St. Raphael's Guild Will Meet Tonight

St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild will meet at 8 p.m., tonight in the St. Raphael's School auditorium.

Students will present a Christmas program.

Outdoor Art Club To Hear Yule Legends

"Bringing in Christmas" is the subject of the program Mrs. Cargill Hall will present at tomorrow's home day meeting of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

Her topic will include traditional family legends handed down to her by her mother in the Middle West that she is now passing on to her own children. She will also display some of her traditional Christmas ornaments.

Mrs. Thomas L. Harris and Mrs. Richard Bennett will be hostesses for the day, and Mrs. Albert Von Der Werth Sr. will be in charge of the Christmas tree.

Mrs. Gerhard Becker has asked all members to bring a gift for either a man or woman to be given at Christmas to residents at the Lucas Valley farm.

President's Lower Tariffs Pose Problem For Miller

President Kennedy has indicated his intention of asking Congress to give him broad powers over tariffs. His speeches are giving jitters to many segments of our economy. Yet his reasoning that the best way to make the nations of the world free is to help make them economically independent is difficult to argue against.

Practically everyone would agree that what we in this country really want is to bring the standard of living in other countries up nearer ours, but without lowering ours in the process.

This is not double-talk. It is possible to raise their standards without lowering ours if their industries and ours can share the new markets which their improved standard of living provides.

In the process of the change, however, individual segments of our economy are likely to be adversely affected. Take, for example, the lumber industry here and in the counties to the north. Already in a shaky financial position because of a slowdown in home building, the industry is being further threatened by imports, such as mahogany plywood from South America from mills established with funds loaned by this country.

This poses a nice question for a congressman, in this case Clem Miller of Corte Madera. How far can Miller go in voting for lower tariff's on lumber and wood products when competition from imported materials is causing unemployment in large sectors of his constituency?

We don't know the answer either to Congressman Miller's specific problem or to the nation's general problem of how far we can go in assisting other nations while harming our own.

It seems obvious that some new, constructive thinking must be done to come up with a solution which will offer protection to our workers at the same time we are aiding in raising the standards of workers in other countries.

Ultimately we believe the President is right in believing that when there is a free exchange of goods between nations there will be solid foundation for cooperation and peace. And we believe we should move in that direction. But slowly; cautiously. We must not lower ourselves to the level of less developed countries, we must help raise them to ours.

So we suggest that Miller and all the other congressmen and senators study each bill presented to them as to both its immediate and long range effects. And to steer away from general, blanket actions, the ultimate effects of which are either vague or unpredictable.

The Wet Old Immigrant

The coming of the rain after the dry season might almost be regarded as a fertility rite, restoring, as it does, the life-giving potential of Marin's eager soil.

The splashing of water in gutters and by cars passing in the streets must be welcome music to Mother Earth. Dry and sterile, yearning for fulfillment, the soil lovingly accepts the rain.

Rain, eternal Husband of Mother Earth. Dry and sterile, yearning for fulfillment, the soil lovingly accepts the rain.

Rain, eternal Husband of Mother Earth, Father of flowers, grasses and plants, make Marin your winter home and welcome. We need you badly.

But, please, keep your waters out of our basement!

Here's How The Boss Can Judge Whether Time Is Making Money

NEW YORK (AP) — Sometimes many a boss goes home after a difficult day feeling he hasn't earned much money for his company. It haunts his evening.

But there is a way that a boss can make a personal profit during his working hours. This is to price his time by a meter as a potential parking space does to a visiting auto.

The boss can do the same thing with persons instead of motor cars. But he must vary the price of moments and hours clocked on the meter by the value he places on the time different visitors are worth in terms of his own measure of their importance.

Here is how this idea works:

As soon as you come into his smiling or frowning presence, you see a busy executive fronted by a large and serious meter.

The meter is a sophisticated one. It accepts paper currency as readily as it does coins. It automatically rejects checks and credit cards, letters from old friends, slaps on the back—anything except cash.

It has attached to it a large and conspicuous sign that reads:

"My time is valuable and here are the rates you must pay to use it. Please put your money in the meter in advance."

Asking for raises in commissions, top salesman only, $1 a minute.

Life insurance salesman explaining why boss needs more protection—50 cents a minute, or one-half of his first year's commission, if he succeeds in selling the boss more.

Talk with junior executive—he puts in 15 cents to get meter back in business. Boss then raises rate to $1 a minute he has great junior executive he has great future in firm.

SOMEONE comes in with an unexpected sales order—boss turns off meter, takes order, silently debits own sales manager for $187 in meter repairs.

A gentleman from Internal Revenue Service is announced—the boss throws his coat over his meter, stretches out a shirt-sleeved hand and says, "My time is your time — I hope I'm joking."

FINALLY, just before quitting time, the boss' wife enters. She inserts a key into the parking meter by the desk of the boss, removes the contents, counts it, puts money into her oversize purse and says:

"George, you didn't do as well as yesterday. How many times do I have to tell you that time is money? Come, dear, it is time to go home. Tomorrow will be better."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

A Tribute To A Daughter

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently a news item was published with a caption which read — "Maid Hangs Self in Basement," which is being challenged because it is like an unfinished symphony.

It leaves much to be desired and unexplained in her background, as her beautiful work in art for many years and the contributions she has made in the interest of humanity will live long in the hearts of many people.

Upon graduating from Polytechnic High School in San Francisco she attended the California School of Fine Arts for a number of years, and also studied with private teachers.

She has had a great deal of experience in the field of commercial art. Her various activities included painting doll faces, glass, china, figurines and ceramics. She also had family crests on display in the lobby of the Palace Hotel, and did specialty work in cards for gift shops. Her work at The Display Mart in San Francisco consisted of photography and silk screen work and creating special designs for prospective salesmen.

After serving many years at this profession she desired a complete change from the pressure of the demands made upon commercial artists and wished to work more leisurely to expand her art work to include courses in wood polishing and design. Therefore she accepted a position of child care in this home as she was intensely interested in the education of children.

She was always surrounded with the neighborhood children whenever she came home. In fact she made a specialty of this work as she had her art to stimulate their interest in flower arrangements, art, music and good literature and to make them more aware of the beauties of nature. She planned group picnics and excursions where they explored the various gift shops in Sausalito.

A great deal of her salary was spent for luncheons and gifts for these children. Her employers said that she possessed a rare gift of understanding children, and contributing to their happiness.

This position also provided her with enough leisure time in which to paint a lovely Japanese mural in our home and also a large painting of the beautiful landscape viewed from the Sausalito hills wherein she captured the design in the formation of the hills of the profile of Abraham Lincoln.

She was also quite active in peace movements and studied intensely to try to understand the various nationalities and the reason for the seeming world upheaval.

Whatever prompted her to commit this act is a mystery to all concerned as she was always surrounded by loving thoughts and had some unfinished art work on hand which she had planned to complete before Christmas. However, we are not viewing a broken arc; we are viewing a life that was rich in beauty and dedicated in love to God and humanity.

Was her work finished here to explore broader horizons? Who knows? It is all in the Father's keeping and He careth for His own.

There appear to be incidents in our lives which seem to be beyond our comprehension and seem to leave us confused and perhaps shaken and discouraged, but God is always at hand to comfort, enlighten, guard and guide us in our journey when we turn unreservably to Him.

Her mother's experience has been enriched in having a daugher whose wisdom, purity of thought, charitableness and perception of beauty has given her a more expansive concept of the universe and man. Since these qualities of soul all eminate from a higher source, the realization of eternal life has been more clearly realized and more firmly established. The kingdom of heaven at hand.

By a mother whose daughter, Lois Carol Mooers, has enriched her life.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

There may be others like myself among I-J readers who have the feeling that this year we are confronted with a new-fashioned Christmas.

This feeling was accentuated for me by receipt of a letter written by the six and a half year old daughter of young friends of mine who live in Southern California. Their daughter's letter was sent to me as proof of their child's proficiency in writing ability. Elso Jody's words are reproduced here as she wrote them—with purple crayon on a large piece of paper:

"Dear Mr. President,

Will there be a chimney for Santa Clas? to come next yearr down in to our Shelter which my Daddy says you are going to give all People, and save all of us. Please answer me."

The parents said they told Jody that she will "see on television that the President is going to be traveling around and will be too busy to answer his mail."

An old-fashioned newspaper editor once upon a time undertook to reply to a little girl who asked if there really was a Santa Claus.

Perhaps one among your new-fashioned editors would care to undertake a reply to little Jody's query if there will be a chimney on their Shelter for Santa Claus to use next Christmas.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A farmer took a train for his very first visit to New York. He alighted at Grand Central and was led through an underground passage to the Roosevelt Hotel. He had dinner in the grill room, and then relaxed in the newsreel theatre in the Terminal. The next day he bought gifts for the family in Grand Central shops and took a train back to the sticks.

"Well, Paw," asked his wife, "how did you like New York?"

"It was wonderful," enthused Paw, "but why didn't somebody tell me it had a roof over it?"

An automobile manufacturer confided to some drinking companions in Detroit that his engineers have built a car that can go 90 miles an hour and come to a dead stop in exactly 10 feet. "When are you going to put it on the market?" he was asked.

"We're waiting," explained the manufacturer carefully, "until we can figure out a way to keep the driver from going through the windshield."

Perhaps No Kissing By Supervisors But Look For More Cordiality

There was kissing in the streets of Mill Valley the other night.

Events since then have shown it was a symbolic as well as an historic occasion.

But truth to tell, the kissing wasn't very good.

For one thing it was mighty limited. I, for one, didn't get in on it. My own wife was in Berkeley and nobody else's wife so much as gave me the time of day.

Actually it seems to have been strictly limited to the Peter Behr family. And their public performance was a long way under Hollywood standards.

I THINK, from results of Bob Hax's camera as published on Page 1 of the Dec. 6 I-J, that the he-Behr had something else on his mind at the time.

"All right, Mr. Hax," she was thinking. "This is part of politics. But any more is going to be home at 212 Del Casa Drive."

NOW ABOUT the symbolic part. Don't get me wrong, and nothing could be more platonic; but the fact is that since election night Peter Behr has been on a courting spree.

Why not? It's mighty smart tactics.

The technique dates clear back to the Golden Rule, and to China a lot earlier. The Chinese version runs backwards—"Don't do unto others what you don't want others to do unto you."

Either way the thing makes sense. And so far as Marin County politics is concerned, it ranks as an original idea.

Behr apparently figures that the best way to enjoy life and at the same time get things done is to make the other guys look good; to work for team play, open covenants openly arrived at, and all that.

He has a lawyer's mind and possibly exaggerates the power of reason. But it's an interesting theory to put to an honest test among honest men.

BEHR COULD be right. On our board of supervisors there has been a lot of conniving, quarreling and sudden surprises over the past few years. Everybody professes to be pretty sick of it and to be anxious for peace if not necessarily love, for understanding and calm weighing of facts.

Opportunity certainly knocks. Behr may prove exactly what's been needed. But I think he is a trifle optimistic overall.

By refusing to cash in on dramatics in his personal situation, by playing it calm, relaxed and modest, Behr certainly can encourage improved feeling and better behaviour on the board.

But he isn't going to budge some of his associates on some of their views, especially when they have firm commitments to their backers.

THE MATTER of the administrator is a case in point. Bill Fusselman and George Ludy don't want to be nasty about it, but their flags are nailed pretty solidly to the mast.

My hunch is that the situation will have to be cleared up by a 3-2 vote. Without urging undue haste, I'd say that only waste can result from much delay in performing the operation.

Everybody is in a mood to be nice so far as can be managed. I think all concerned will yield on most points where it's at all possible. Behr is right in setting a good example for not pressing advantages too hard.

I look for less than kissing in all Marin streets. But there may be a lot more general cordiality.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Nixon Deserves Credit For Being Right In His Assessment Of Castro

WASHINGTON—When the facts come into the open, showing that Vice President Richard M. Nixon was right when many others were misled and that he was unfairly criticized when he got into political trouble, somebody should be willing to stand up and say so.

1—Nixon in April, 1959, was remarkably perceptive and far ahead of most others in recognizing that Fidel Castro was pro-Communist and in so warning both the White House and the State Department in a written memorandum.

2—It was not Nixon's actions which provoked the stoning and spitting episodes which endangered him and his wife and marred his Latin American trip, but it was the Communists who planned these hostile demonstrations well in advance.

I AM NOT attempting to appraise Nixon's political past nor further its future, but I do feel that when new facts put a fresh light on events, one ought to give some credit where credit is due.

We now know, on his own say-so, that Castro was a committed Communist before he overthrew the Batista regime—thus exchanging one dictatorship for another—and that, while pretending otherwise so as not to alert the Cuban people, he was preparing to fasten a Communist regime upon his nation.

But turn your mind back to the events of two-and-a-half years ago. Only a few months earlier Castro's army had taken over in Havana and Castro was insisting to one and all that his only objective was social reform and a democratic Cuba under free institutions.

IN APRIL OF that year he was here in Washington as the guest of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. An informal meeting in Nixon's office between the Vice President and Castro was arranged.

But after a long conversation with Castro, Vice President Nixon wrote down his impressions in a private memorandum for the information of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Herter. He concluded:

"Castro seems to be sincere, he is either incredibly naive about Communism or is already under Communist discipline."

THAT, I THINK, will stand as a prescient judgment which deserves recognition. Castro was "under Communist discipline" at his own initiative.

At another point in his 1959 memorandum Nixon predicted that Castro would "take some rather drastic steps toward curtailing freedom of the press" in Cuba—as he later did.

As to the Latin American student riots of 1958, a United Press dispatch from Rio de Janeiro quotes three Peruvian Communists "involved in attacks on former Vice President Nixon" as having told the Moral Rearmament Assembly of the Americas of their part in the demonstrations and how they regretted their initiative.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

National Automobile Sales Really Move Into High Gear

Automobile manufacturers are happy, I'm sure. For the last three weeks I've received statistics from most of them indicating that November or some part of it has shown record high sales of their various makes.

Now that the figures are out for the entire month it appears that they all must be right. Sales of 585,000 cars are more than 10 per cent higher than during November of last year.

Enthused by this showing, hopes are running high for a smash record for the last quarter of this year, topping even the 1.7 million cars registered during the last three months of 1955.

General Motors has become optimistic enough to predict sales of 7,250,000 during 1962, including 400,000 imported cars. And more cars are being delivered to the European market.

RAMBLERS will soon be built in Europe, under a contract recently signed between American Motors and Renault. Production will begin in January at the Renault plant in Haren, Belgium. Initially the plant will build only the Rambler Classic, engineered and trimmed specifically for the European market. Models will be channeled through Renaults' own distributors and existing Rambler European distributors.

Last month, AMC created American Motors Export Corp. in Switzerland and received approval from the Argentine government to manufacture Ramblers at Cordova where production will also begin in January. Cars are currently being produced in Canada, Mexico, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Malta.

MERCURY METEOR will come out with a new glamour model with bucket seats in February . . . The new Volkswagen 1500 series, blockier looking and with 53 horsepower, is not likely to reach the U.S. market until the second half of 1962—even though it goes on sale in March . . . The American Automobile Manufacturers Assn. has recommended that all member companies tool up to incorporate positive crankcase ventilation in all cars and trucks with 1963 model production. It could eliminate 40 per cent of hydrocarbon emissions.

NEW MARIN RESIDENT is Leon Strauss Jr. who's settled at 104 The Alameda, San Anselmo. Strauss came from Chicago to establish the Bay Area Hearing Aid Center in San Francisco, one of three franchised centers on the Pacific Coast for the Zenith Radio Corp. Hearing Aid Division.

He was formerly Zenith's national training director and was the first man to produce a printed circuit hearing aid in his own factory following World War II.

NOW IN its new home at 1290 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, is the Redwood Empire Agency of California-Western States Life Insurance Co., moved from Santa Rosa. Bryce Ashton is agency manager . . . Robert E. Roeser of San Rafael has added a "President's Citation Award" from the Allstate Insurance Companies to his other honors as an Allstate agent since 1955 . . . Nicholas G. K. Boyd Jr., former San Rafael resident and now living in San Francisco, has been promoted to San Francisco traffic manager of General Steamship Corp., Ltd., Italian Line Department, effective Jan. 1.

Marinite Was On Ship As Enos Taken From Water

Enos, the chimpanzee who orbited the earth twice last month, might still be afloat in the Atlantic Ocean had it not been for a Sausalito radioman aboard the U.S. Navy destroyer, USS Stormes.

A dispatch received today from the Navy did not exactly say that Raymond J. Muller Jr., of 38 Caledonia Street, personally helped Enos out of the water.

It did say, however, Muller son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Muller, was aboard the Stormes as radioman when Enos was hauled aboard after plunging into the ocean about 150 miles south of Bermuda after being launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The Stormes is part of Task Force Alpha, the Atlantic fleet anti-submarine defense force and is out of Norfalk, Va.

Muller's parents said today they had not received a personal account of the incident, mail service from ships at sea being somewhat on the tardy side.

San Rafael Chamber Orchestra To Begin

The San Rafael Chamber Orchestra will open its season of four concerts Sunday at 8 p.m. in Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael.

Hugo Rinaldi, orchestra director and permanent conductor, announced the major work of the evening will be Schuberts' Symphony No. 5 in C Major.

For the Marin premiere of Joseph Canteloube's "Songs of the Auvergne," guest soloist will be Corinne Swall, soprano, of Kentfield.

Miss Swall, a native of Marin, is a graduate of University of California and attended the Juilliard School of Music in New York. She was the leading soprano with the Philadelphia Co-Opera Company and star of the Carre Theater in Amsterdam, Holland.

She made her San Francisco debut last fall with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra under Arthur Fiedler and is currently making many appearances with Bay Area concert and opera groups.

Opening number will be J.S. Bach's Fourth Brandenburg Concerto with Concertmaster Everett O'Bannon playing the violin solo. Pianist will be Faith France, and flutist will be Jean Cunningham and Wendy Eisler.

CORINNE SWALL
Guest with orchestra

The San Rafael Chamber Orchestra is sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department and is supported through a music trust fund of the Musician's Union, AFL-CIO.

There will be no admission charge.

Title Firms To Merge In San Rafael

Paul R. Leahy, president of the California Pacific Title Co., Marin Division, 1200 Lincon Avenue, San Rafael, announced today the firm will operate under the name of Title Insurance and Trust Co. after Jan. 1.

California Pacific Title Co. has been a subsidiary of Title Insurance and Trust Co. for many years, Leahy said. Under the new arrangement they will be merged to provide customers with a full range of statewide title services under one company name. Capital, surplus and reserves are declared to be in excess of 80 million dollars.

Title Insurance and Trust has its main office in Los Angeles, with branches throughout California. Leahy said his new capacity with the company will be that of vice president and manager of the San Rafael branch.

New Conservation Deputy Is Named

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The new post of a deputy director for the Department of Conservation goes to Robert D. Calkins, 47, of Sacramento.

His appointment was announced by Gov. Edmund G. Brown's office. Calkins has been conservation program officer in the Fish and Game Department since 1953. He formerly was editor and co-publisher of four Calkins newspapers in Stanislaus County.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 13, the 347th day of the year with 18 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1642, New Zealand was discovered by Dutch navigator Abel Tasman who gave it its name.

In 1918, American soldiers attached to the Third Army crossed the Rhine River at Coblenz, Germany.

In 1959, the United Nations General Assembly ended its 14th session after having broken a two-month deadlock over the election of a nonpermanent member of the security council.

A thought for the day: Arthur Conan Doyle, British novelist, and creator of Sherlock Holmes said: "When you have eliminated the impossible, whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth."

TIME AND TIDE

Giving Signal Can Often Turn Out As 2-Edge Weapon

Signals are two-edged weapons. They tell your partner where your side strength is located—but they give the information to declarer at the same time. The news may be more helpful to him than to your partner.

South	West	North	East
2 NT	Pass	3 NT	All Pass

Opening lead — ♠ 10

West led the ten of spades, declarer put up dummy's jack, and East's queen was allowed to hold the trick. East naturally returned a spade to South's king.

Declarer laid down the ace and king of clubs since the contract would be a cinch if the queen of clubs dropped. As it happened, the clubs broke badly. When South led out the king of clubs, West discarded the eight of diamonds.

KNOCKS ENTRY: South could not make the contract by leading another club at once. East would return a spade to the ace, and West would gain the lead with his ace to run the rest of the spades. The defender would get three spades, a club and two red aces.

South had to abandon the clubs in order to knock out West's entry. The question was: which ace did West hold?

The signal answered the question. After cashing the two top clubs, South led diamonds to force out West's ace. Now West could set up the spades, but he could never regain the lead to cash his tricks.

South had time to go back to clubs. He lost a spade, a club and two red aces, fulfilling the contract.

If West had simply discarded a low heart on the second round of clubs, South would have gone down. Even if South went after diamonds, West would refuse the first diamond, take the next trick with the ace of diamonds, and return a diamond to set up East's long suit. East would get in with a club to run the rest of his diamonds.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three clubs, the Stayman Convention. Partner will show a major suit if he can. If he cannot show a major suit, you will bid toward game in spades.

Meeting Set On Future Of San Jose

The future of the San Jose School District will be discussed by the school boards of the San Jose, Dixie, San Rafael, and Novato districts at a meeting tentatively set for Jan. 22.

This was the decision Monday night of the San Jose board at its regular meeting, when a delegation from Loma Verde asked the board to consider a boundary change which would put part of Loma Verde in the Dixie Elementary School District.

Chairman Robert Allen told the delegation that there were several possibilities for the future of the San Jose District.

Allen said the board generally favored attempting another unification election, this time eliminating the school board election at the sametime. ed into a clash of personalities," Allen said.

He indicated that the board unofficially felt that if this were not part of the election, unification might have carried.

The San Jose Board wants a thorough study of all possibilities before any further attempt is made to join any other district, Allen said.

Health Insurance

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three of four Americans now have some form of voluntary health insurance coverage, the Health Information Foundation reports. But coverage is relatively poor among families whose main earners work in such industries as agriculture, forestry, fishing and construction.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Wall Street Worries About Its Public Image

NEW YORK (AP) — Next to making money, Wall Street probably has worried most in recent years about what the public thinks about it.

This may be a secondary interest but it's a strong one—dating back to those dark years after the 1929 stock market crash and the scandals of the early 1930s when a large part of the public admittedly had a very low opinion of Wall Street indeed.

The current official investigation of the nation's stock exchanges has led part of the public to wonder again what goes on in the securities markets.

The curosity is sharpened today by the resignation of Edward T. McCormick, president of the American Stock Exchange, the nation's second largest.

The exchanges say they welcome the inquiry as the best way to show that with only a few exceptions their performance has been in the public's interest. But some in Wall Street worry lest an official inquiry lead Congress to draw on new rules aimed at plugging procedure loopholes but actually restricting legitimate activities.

The securities markets are under the close watch of the Securities and Exchange Commission, set up after the congressional probe in 1933-34 of market activities. And since those troubled days the exchanges themselves have tightened their rules and set up their own watchdog committees.

The battle to win back public esteem has been a long one on Wall Street. Not only did the general public pretty much stay out of the market in the '30s and early '40s, but Wall Street financial firms report that during those years it was hard to get young men to enter the business.

Since the war, the picture has changed. Stockholding has spread among the general public—whether out of confidence in the securities community or out of belief in the buyer's own investing acumen. The number of individual owners of stocks is now estimated at 15 million or more. The volume of trading on the exchanges has mounted. And Wall Street firms say many young men now look on the locale as a good place to carve out a career.

In addition to the increased number of those buying stocks as individuals, there has been a marked growth in mutual funds — professional management for individual owners—and of investment clubs—small groups of neighbors or fellow workers who meet regularly and invest cooperatively. And the public has been flocking to courses on investing given by brokerage firms, educational institutions, economists and many others.

All of this certainly shows rising interest — and Wall Street hopes confidence — in the securities markets.

Texas Short On Diamonds

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas is short on diamonds, but has other precious stones as claim to fame, "Texas Gemstones," published by the University of Texas bureau of economic geology, says.

The only "Well-authenticated" Texas diamond was found in Foard County in North Texas in 1911.

But Texas claims the largest gem-quality topaz crystal ever found in North America, a pale blue crystal that would yield a gem of about 500 carats. The beauty was found in Mason County in west central Texas.

ALLEN & SON

Elbow Room $19,950 Novato
In a day when homes with space around them are getting harder and harder to find, we are pleased to offer this quarter-acre property, all level. It's a nice 3-bedroom 2-bath home, with an efficient modern kitchen. There's an outside entrance to the master-bath, appropriate for access to possible pool. (there's room for one.) On quiet cul de sac, near schools. Try $1000 down.

Golf Widows Beware! $29,250 Loma Verde
Your husband can pick up his clubs and take off every Saturday and Sunday for the golf course (it's right next door) because the work has all been done around this lovely home. Paths, play-yard are in; trees, shrubs planted; ground cover for low maintenance; once he mowed the trim lawn, he's off! 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, delightful kitchen, den, family-dining room. Privacy, wooded view. Immaculate.

Traffic-free $38,000 Kentfield
On a quiet street of nice homes, this lovely place is appropriately landscaped with taste and imagination. Black-topped play yard separate from the rest of the garden. No streets to cross on the way to Adeline Kent School. 3 bedrooms, separate dining room, large kitchen, play-room with sliding glass doors to play-yard. Book shelves, matched panelling in living room.

Gracious $39,500 Sleepy Hollow

A Wall of Built-ins $40,750 San Anselmo
Newly-created family room in this almost-new home features a carefully-crafted wall of shelves, drawers, desk. L-shaped to allow variety of room arrangements. 3 bedrooms, 2 interestingly tiled bathrooms, lovely kitchen with eating area. Professional landscaping includes exposed aggregate patio, low maintenance planting. Marvelous valley view over trees and rooftops.

Pheasant Under Glass $69,500 Kent Woodlands
You can watch it turn on the spit behind the glass doors of this built-in barbecue in the family-dining room. Built to the exacting specifications of a careful home-owner and builder, this charming home features many custom extras, designed to please. Extra closet space throughout. Efficient kitchen. 3 bedrooms, 3 baths (2 of the baths adjoin bedrooms) plenty of storage. Livable patios, wooded view. Mostly level, lots of parking area. Tall trees.

Five Bedrooms $72,500 Ross
Elegant, spacious living here in this exclusive Del Mesa home. Fantastic view over the bay to San Francisco, over treetops to the mountain. Large living room with wide view decks on either side of attractive fireplace. Separate dining room kitchen with eating area; 3 baths, recreation room, shop, storage. Covered porch overlooks delightful secluded tile patio. Realistically priced.

2 Magnificent Acres $75,000 Ross
King of all you survey from this wooded crest, you will enjoy regal comfort: the salt-water pool, flanked by brick terrace, shrubs, trees, and affording an outstanding view. Dressing room, guest room and bath off swimming pool terrace. 3 bedroom, 3 bath home includes separate dining room, game room, den. Entrance hall of protected brick patio, sheltered, inviting.

'61 BUICK
SPECIAL
$2450
Here's a car that our sales manager has driven all through 1961 and has only 7,000 miles on it. It's a little two-tone blue 4-dr. sedan with Dynaflow, radio heater, tinted glass and new white-wall tires that we just put on.
We've gone over this car from stem to stern to make it as close to new as possible. It will carry a complete new car guarantee just like a new one of 12 months or 12,000 miles. It's never been registered and the purchaser will be the first owner of record.

BUICK
'59 LE SABRE
$2195
Here's a one-owner local Station wagon that's so clean you'd never know it had been used. Ivy league green with power steering, power brakes and all the Buick luxury equipment. Low mileage. Not a scratch or mark of wear anywhere. We've taken care of this wagon since new.
'57 CENTURY
$1195
Another one-owner local wagon that we sold new in '57. Traded on new Buick wagon. Power steering and brakes. 9-passenger. All white with natural saddle leather. This Caballero Estate Wagon was one of the most striking wagons ever built—the first hardtop wagon on the American market. Very low mileage. Serviced by us since new.

Rather Toot Than Work

FRANKLIN, Mass. (UPI)—Herbert C. Stewart, 77, a printer, doesn't let work interfere with his playing of taps here on Memorial Day. He has been the bugler at Memorial Day services in Franklin for 57 consecutive years and for 49 years in nearby Norfolk.

"I turn work away to make sure I'm available for the chore each year," says Stewart, who runs his own printing shop. "I always accept only the amount of work that pleases me."

THE BOOR IS ABASHED

Marin Cerebral Palsy March Set For Jan. 15

The 1962 "March on Cerebral Palsy" will be conducted on Jan. 15, Mrs. Kenneth I. Simmons, president of United Cerebral Palsy of Marin, announced today.

Theme of the annual drive will be "If She Lived Next Door, Would You Help?" Mrs. Simmons said this points up the fact that "the cerebral palsied of Marin County and the rest of the nation live right next door to everyone." More than 600,000 children and adults in the U.S. are handicapped by cerebral palsy, she said.

One-fourth of the funds raised by the local chapter goes to the national organization to be used for research, and one and one-half per cent is sent to the state organization. "The remainder is used right here in Marin County," Mrs. Simmons said.

The local chapter's program to aid local victims includes assistance with speech therapy at Marindale School for orthopedically handicapped children, where an estimated 85 per cent of the pupils are victims of cerebral palsy; payment for film and film processing used at Marindale for medical records; camperships and assistance with the summer recreation program sponsored by the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Last summer the chapter sponsored a swimming program for handicapped youngsters. College scholarships also are among its projects.

Volunteers to aid in the Jan. 15 march are now being recruited, Mrs. Simmons said. Marin residents who would like to sign up as volunteers may notify her.

Space for telephone recruitment is being donated by the Mart in Sausalito and Villa Rafael Motel, San Rafael, Mrs. Simmons announced.
